Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 260:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 5, 1953

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 260, "An act making an appropriation for the support of major construction, improvements, and equipment at the Porterville State Home, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

The need for seven additional ward buildings and related equipment at the Porterville State Home is urgent. There are many applications for the admittance of mentally defective children, for whom no room is now available in any state home. If this bill can be passed immediately, between four and six months of time will be gained in the completion of the buildings, with a possible saving of money.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 260 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

WHEREAS, His successful conduct of a private law practice always gave way to such civic responsibilities in Santa Monica as membership on the Board of Education, in the Chamber of Commerce, and in the Republican Club, and he served his profession as vice president of the State Bar; and

WHEREAS, He was for a time vice president of the former National Bank of Santa Monica, and organizer of the Southern California Bankers Association; and

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 27:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 18, 1953

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 27, "An act making an appropriation for construction, improvements, repairs, and equipment of a hospital annex and alterations to existing hospital at Pacific Colony, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Existing hospital facilities at Pacific Colony are inadequate even for the present population and new ward buildings are now under construction. It is imperative, therefore, that the construction of the hospital treatment center be expedited so that it may be completed as soon as possible.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 27 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 4294.5 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

4294.5. Each such stabilization and marketing plan may contain provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk which is received by a distributor in one marketing area and separated in that area into fluid cream and fluid skim milk when such fluid cream or fluid skim milk or both are transported for utilization into another marketing area or into a locality in which no stabilization or marketing plan is in effect.

Sec. 2. It is the purpose and intent of this act to rectify and clarify the following situation. It appears that when fluid milk is purchased by a distributor from a producer in one marketing area, separated in that area into fluid cream and fluid skim milk and the fluid cream or fluid skim milk or both are transported from that marketing area the price paid to the producer has not been considered as being subject to the provisions of the law relating to the fixing of minimum prices for fluid milk. This appears to have been the interpretation placed upon the law by the Department of Agriculture (Pricing Inter-market Transfers of Bulk Grade A Cream and Skim Milk, Bulletin 732, California Agricultural Experiment Station). The Legislative Counsel is of the opinion that the Director of Agriculture has the power under pre-existing law to control the prices paid in such cases (Senate Journal, January 6, 1953, pages 51, 52, 53). The Attorney General is of the opinion that such authority is doubtful and that clarifying legislation should be enacted (Opinion No. 537, printed in the Senate Journal, January 17, 1953, pages 396-399, inclusive).

It has never been the actual intent of the Legislature that the provisions of law relating to the pricing of fluid milk should be evaded by the simple expedient of separating such milk into its constituent fluid cream and fluid skim milk and shipping either or both out of the marketing area in which the fluid milk was originally received. It is the purpose of this act to authorize the Director of Agriculture to make provision for the fixing of minimum prices to be paid to producers for fluid milk under the circumstances above described."

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 2 to 18, inclusive.

Amendments read, and adopted.

Junior college comprising grades 11 to 14, inclusive--	750 or more	80

Elementary schools in a district comprising any combination of grades from kindergarten through the 8th grade with a total estimated district average daily attendance in kindergarten and grades 1 to 6, inclusive, of 300 or more, shall be allowed 55 square feet per unit of average daily attendance in kindergarten and grades 1 to 6, inclusive, and 75 square feet per unit of average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8.

[The total number of square feet per unit of average daily attendance shall constitute an average allowance per unit of average daily attendance, within which allowance shall be made for physically handicapped, mentally handicapped, or cerebral palsied pupils.]

To the building area permitted to an applicant school district by this section, there may be added such additional building area as may be required to provide adequate facilities for exceptional children pursuant to Article 3 of this chapter.

The maximum total building areas per unit of average daily attendance allowed to applicants having schools with smaller estimated average daily attendance than shown in the above schedule shall be determined by the Department of Education, and shall be building areas to provide comparable facilities to those enumerated above, and shall be the least building area required to house adequately the estimated average daily attendance and the normal instructional and other services.

No estimate of average daily attendance made by an applicant for the purpose of justifying an apportionment shall be made for a longer time than the second fiscal year beyond the fiscal year in which an application is made, and in no case shall be given effect unless approved by the Department of Education."

WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE OF SENATE BILL NO. 470

Senator Burns moved that Senate Bill No. 470 be withdrawn from Committee on Agriculture for purpose of amendment, and re-referred to committee.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Bill No. 470—An act to add Article 2.5 to Chapter 6 of Division 4 of the Agricultural Code, relating to frozen dairy products and imitations thereof.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Desmond moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

In line 4 of the title of the printed bill, as amended in Senate March 25, 1953, strike out the period and insert ", declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, line 25, of said bill, as amended, strike out "presented", and insert "established".

Amendment No. 3

On page 2 of said bill, as amended, after line 24, insert

"Sec. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The presence on the market of imitation frozen dairy products which resemble in all respects the real products would be conducive of fraud and deception of the purchasers and cause confusion on the part of the purchasers thereof. The existing regulatory law on the subject of imitation dairy products has proved ineffective for the accomplishment of its purposes. Imitation frozen dairy products are now being manufactured in other states not far from California. These products are considerably less expensive than the real products they resemble. There is no practicable method of preventing their shipment into this State. Once within this State such products may legally be sold in compliance with the present regulatory laws. Such laws, however, are susceptible of evasion. Since the imitation products resemble the real products so closely as to be practically indistinguishable, once the fraud is perpetrated it can not be detected. The only way the public can be protected is by prohibitory legislation applicable to all imitation frozen dairy products wherever produced, and it is necessary in the interests of the welfare of the people that this be done immediately."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Agriculture.

Senate Resolution No. 95

Relative to requesting the Department of Motor Vehicles to make an investigation concerning the feasibility, advantages and methods of reflectorizing license plates

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as other junior chambers throughout California and in the Nation, have recognized the importance of reducing the terrible toll in life and property that traffic accidents are taking on our streets and highways; and

WHEREAS, These Junior Chambers have taken the lead in placing reflectorized tape strips on the rear bumpers of automobiles, as well as bicycles, in an effort to aid in the reduction of night traffic accidents; and

WHEREAS, Records show that this program has had a very definite effect in reducing night accidents, particularly the serious rear-end crashes; and

WHEREAS, The public has proven it wants this protection afforded by rear-end reflectorization, as evidenced by the tens of thousands of motorists who voluntarily purchased the reflectorized strips; and

WHEREAS, This protection and vital night-time safety measure could be provided all motorists in California and thus aid materially in the saving of lives and property if a reflectorizing material were placed on automobile license plates by the State of California; and

WHEREAS, It is reported that other states are now reflectorizing their license plates with a resultant reduction of night accidents, and particularly in the rear-end collision type, and more states are now considering such reflectorized license plates; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Motor Vehicles is hereby requested to investigate the feasibility, advantages and methods of reflectorizing license plates for all vehicles registered in this State as a measure to help reduce California's soaring night-time accident rate; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Relative to requesting the Department of Motor Vehicles to make an investigation concerning the feasibility, advantages and methods of reflectorizing license plates

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as other junior chambers throughout California and in the Nation, have recognized the importance of reducing the terrible toll in life and property that traffic accidents are taking on our streets and highways; and

WHEREAS, These junior chambers have taken the lead in placing reflectorized tape strips on the rear bumpers of automobiles, as well as bicycles, in an effort to aid in the reduction of night traffic accidents; and

WHEREAS, Records show that this program has had a very definite effect in reducing night accidents, particularly the serious rear-end crashes; and

WHEREAS, The public has proven it wants this protection afforded by rear-end reflectorization, as evidenced by the tens of thousands of motorists who voluntarily purchased the reflectorized strips; and

WHEREAS, This protection and vital nighttime safety measure could be provided all motorists in California and thus aid materially in the saving of lives and property if a reflectorizing material were placed on automobile license plates by the State of California; and

WHEREAS, It is reported that other states are now reflectorizing their license plates with a resultant reduction of night accidents, and particularly in the rear-end collision type, and more states are now considering such reflectorized license plates; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Department of Motor Vehicles is hereby requested to investigate the feasibility, advantages and methods of reflectorizing license plates for all vehicles registered in this State as a measure to help reduce California's soaring nighttime accident rate; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

(b) If a contested case is heard by an authorized representative he shall prepare a proposed decision in such form that it may be adopted as the decision in the case. A copy of the proposed decision shall be filed by the board as a public record. The board itself may adopt the proposed decision in its entirety, or may reduce the proposed punitive action or penalty and adopt the balance of the proposed decision.

If the case is so assigned to an authorized representative he shall prepare a proposed decision as provided in subdivision (b) upon the additional evidence and the transcript and other papers which are part of the record of the prior hearing. A copy of such proposed decision shall be furnished to each party. The board itself shall decide no case provided for in this subdivision without affording the parties the opportunity to present either oral or written argument before the board itself. If additional oral evidence is introduced before the board itself no board member may vote unless he heard the additional oral evidence.

The punitive action taken by the appointing power shall stand unless modified or revoked by the board. If the board finds that the cause or causes for which the punitive action was imposed were insufficient or not sustained, or that the employee was justified in the course of conduct upon which the causes were based, it may modify or revoke the punitive action and it may order the employee returned to his position either as of the date of the punitive action or as of such later date as it may specify. The final decision of the board shall be entered upon the minutes of the board and the official roster.

SEC. 8. Section 19583.5 is hereby amended to read:

19583.5. Any person with the consent of the board or the appointing power may file charges against an employee requesting that punitive action be taken for one or more causes for discipline specified in this article. The employee against whom such charges are filed shall have a right to answer as provided in this article. In all such cases [the board shall conduct a hearing] a hearing shall be conducted in accord with

Senate Bill No. 1757—An act to amend Section 14030 of the Government Code, relating to the Division of Architecture Revolving Fund, declaring the urgency thereof and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 1757:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 27, 1953

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 1757, "An act to amend Section 14030 of the Government Code, relating to the Division of Architecture Revolving Fund, declaring the urgency thereof and providing that this act shall take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill would permit the moneys in the Division of Architecture Revolving Fund to be used for construction projects where the Federal Government is contributing a part of the cost. Under present law the Federal Government cannot contribute its proportionate cost of the project until the project is completed, and the State cannot undertake the project until the money is available; therefore, there is an impasse which must be solved by the enactment of this bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 1757 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL BUREAU

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, April 4, 1953

Hon. F. Presley Abshire
Senate Chamber

County Sanitation District Bonds—No. 8067

DEAR SENATOR ABSHIRE: You have asked for information in regard to Assembly Bill No. 13, as amended in Senate March 26, 1953, relating to the proposal in the bill to require only a majority vote, instead of two-thirds vote, for the approval of the issuance of bonds by county sanitation districts.

The information requested is in two parts, namely, could the results desired by the bill be accomplished by means of any other existing bond issue provisions requiring only a majority vote, and, are there any present provisions in the law requiring only a majority vote to approve the issue of general obligation bonds.

As to the first part of the request, the purpose of county sanitation district is to acquire, construct, maintain, or operate, sewerage collection, treatment and disposal systems, and, refuse collection and disposal systems (Sections 4741 and 4742 of the Health and Safety Code). However, the urgency clause of Assembly Bill No. 13 contemplates "the construction of sewers and sewerage disposal facilities," so that in considering other applicable laws, we may assume that we need not be concerned with the matter of refuse collection and disposal systems.

We have found only the following laws, both of which are referred to in our letter of April 1, 1953, that authorize bonds for sewerage purposes, and require only a majority vote for their approval.

Chapter 5, "Sewer Revenue Bonds," of Division 5, Part 3, of the Health and Safety Code, relating to sewer revenue bonds, permits any "district which is authorized to acquire, construct, own, or operate a sewer system" to issue bonds (Sections 4951, 4966(b), and Article 4). An election is required only if a petition is filed by property owners requesting that the proposition be submitted to an election (Section 4975). Only a majority vote would seem to be required since no other provisions are made (Section 4976).

The Sanitation, Sewer, and Water Revenue Bond Law of 1941 (Sections 54300 to 54672 of the Government Code) is also applicable. It permits any "district which is authorized to acquire, construct, own, or operate a sewer system" (Section 54307) to acquire, construct, or improve any enterprise (Sections 54340 and 54341), and "enterprise" is defined to mean "a system, plant, works, or undertaking used for or useful in collection, treatment, and disposal of waste, refuse, and garbage, or sewage, waste, and storm water" (Section 54309). This law authorizes the issue of revenue bonds subject to an election (Section 54380), and only a majority of votes is required to authorize the issuance of the bonds (Section 54386).

As to the second part of your inquiry, whether there are any present provisions in the law requiring only a majority vote to approve the issue of general obligation bonds, we refer you to the following provisions which seem to permit this. There are three provisions in the Health and Safety Code, Section 14092 (fire protection districts in unincorporated areas), Section 14350 (metropolitan fire protection districts), and Section 14495.5 (county fire protection districts), and Section 6501 of the Harbors and Navigation Code (recreational harbor districts).

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. BEN JACOBSON, Deputy

Two copies to Hon. Ernest R. Geddes, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

The second meeting shall be held during June of the same year, at which time the commission shall set quotas and dates for the ensuing season. Ten days prior to the June meeting the commission shall give notice of the quotas and dates that it intends to set. 1085. Any regulations of the commission made pursuant to the authority vested in it by this article shall be state-wide in their application with respect to sardines, jack mackerel or Pacific mackerel.

1086. Sardines may be taken for use by a packer, or in a reduction plant or for use as dead bait, only between August 1st and March 31st, inclusive. The commission may at its June meeting shorten the time aforesaid; provided, that the time shall, in such instances, commence with August 1st and shall be not less than 90 continuous calendar days.

1086.1. Subject to the establishment of quotas as provided in this article, jack mackerel, Pacific mackerel and anchovies may be taken for use by a packer or as dead bait at any time. The commission shall not establish the amount of any such quotas which may be taken by any one person, shore establishment or vessel, or the amount thereof which must be devoted to any particular use.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The sardine, mackerel and anchovy fisheries are among the most important of the state's fishery industries, contributing greatly to the wealth and prosperity of the people and providing valuable food and by products. The sardine and Pacific mackerel have become progressively scarcer, causing distress to the industry, and the same scarcity may occur in the jack mackerel and anchovy fisheries. Immediate recovery of the distressed fisheries and maintenance of the others at a high level of productivity are essential to the well being of the State's industry. In order to provide for the regulation of the 1953 fisheries, which commence during the summer, it will be necessary for this bill to be effective as of May 15, 1953."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Brown asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding Working Hours of Women, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1953

Honorable Charles Brown
Senate Chamber

Working Hours of Women—No. 8224

DEAR SENATOR BROWN: You have asked for our opinion as to the following question:

Question

If Senate Bill No. 77, as amended in Senate March 27, 1953, becomes law, could the Industrial Welfare Commission acting under Section 1182 of the Labor Code, fix the maximum working hours of "resort workers" as defined in the bill?

Opinion

In our opinion the answer is "yes."

Analysis

Article 1 (comprising Sections 1350 to 1356, inclusive) of Chapter 3, Part 4, Division 2, of the Labor Code now fixes the maximum working hours for women in specified establishments or industries at eight hours in one day and 48 hours in one week.

Senate Bill No. 77, as amended in Senate March 27, 1953, would exempt from said Article 1 "persons employed by a seasonal resort employer during the resort season."

Section 1182, of the Labor Code, which is not in the article affected by Senate Bill No. 77, authorizes the Industrial Welfare Commission to fix, among other things:

"(b) The maximum hours of work consistent with the health and welfare of women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this State. The hours so fixed shall not be more than the maximum now or hereafter fixed by law."

Unlike Section 1350, which, in fixing the eight-hour day, 48-hour week limit, is limited to specified industries and establishments, Section 1182 applies to any occupation, trade or industry, and could apply both to industries and establishments covered by Section 1350 and those not so covered.

In declaring that the hours fixed pursuant to Section 1182 "shall not be more than the maximum now or hereafter fixed by law," the Legislature clearly indicated that the sections could overlap—that is, that the commission could regulate hours in an establishment or industry covered by Section 1350, provided the regulation did not authorize such an establishment or industry to violate the eight-hour day, 48-hour week, provision applicable to such establishment or industry by virtue of Section 1350.

In view of the above we are of the opinion that if Senate Bill No. 77 becomes law the Industrial Welfare Commission could, acting under Section 1182 of the Labor Code, fix the maximum hours of "resort workers" as defined in the bill.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Deputy

779.1. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Processing purposes" means the packing of commercially frozen cauliflower.

(b) "Head" means that portion of the cauliflower which is obtained when the protecting green outside leaves and excessive stalk have been removed by cutting off the butt on a straight line across the base of the head, however, the line of cut shall be such as not to remove any florets.

779.2. Heads shall be fresh, compact, and of proper size.

(a) Fresh means that the head does not show visible evidence of wilting.

(b) Compact means that the flower clusters are closely united, and the head is solid.

(c) Proper size means that the head shall be at least five (5) inches in diameter when measured across the head at the largest diameter.

779.3. Heads shall not be fuzzy, ricey, bruised, discolored, overmature, or contain dirt or other foreign material, or be affected by mechanical injury or internal discoloration.

(a) Fuzzy means that on more than 50 percent of the surface area of the head there is a distinct "fuzzy" condition.

(b) Ricey means that the flower clusters have elongated, or the head has a granular appearance, and either one or both of these conditions affect more than 25 percent of the surface area of the head.

(c) Discolored means that discoloration caused by sunburn, field frost, bruising, mechanical injury, or other means, other than normal characteristic color associated with variety characteristics, and is considered serious when the discoloration extends over more than 50 percent of the surface area, or materially affects the freezing quality of the head.

(d) Overmature means that the head has developed to a degree that it is no longer compact, and fails to meet the condition described in subdivision (b) of Section 779.2, or has become discolored because of overmaturity more than the amount described in subdivision (c) of this section.

(e) Dirt or other foreign material means that dirt or other foreign material which cannot be removed in the ordinary method of processing, and is considered serious when the dirt or other foreign material materially affects more than 25 percent of the surface area of the head.

(f) Internal discoloration of the head means distinct green or purple color on the surface of the head or the stem of the floret or other off color within the head, that materially affects the freezing quality of the head.

779.4. Individual florets shall be free from insect damage, mold, decay, bruising, mechanical injury, yellow color, watersoaking, fuzziness, richness, discolored, dirt, and internal discoloration.

(a) Individual florets shall be determined by the following method: When the head has been separated from the protecting outer leaves as provided in subdivision (b) of Section 779.1, the head shall be placed on a flat surface and quartered, the inside base stem shall then be cut out, and the individual portions which are thus removed from the base stem shall be considered single pieces, or individual florets. No further separation shall be permitted, even though two florets may still be attached, and for the purpose of inspection such pieces shall be considered "individual florets."

(b) Insect damage shall mean any surface discoloration or penetration by insects on the individual floret.

(c) Mold shall mean the presence of mold in any form on the individual floret.

(d) Decay means decomposition from any cause on the individual floret.

(e) Bruising or mechanical injury means that individual florets have become discolored, scarred, or mashed from this cause.

(f) Yellow color means that color which is not as light as cream yellow.

(g) Watersoaked cauliflower is considered to be damaged from this cause when it materially affects the freezing quality.

(h) Fuzziness means that there is a distinct "fuzzy" condition affecting the surface of the floret.

(i) Richness means that the flower clusters have elongated, or the surface of the floret has a granular appearance.

(j) Discolored means that discoloration which appears on the surface of the floret when caused by sunburn, field frost, bruising, mechanical injury, or other means, other than normal characteristic color associated with variety characteristics.

(k) Dirt or other foreign material means that dirt or other foreign material which cannot be removed from the floret in the ordinary method of processing.

(l) Internal discoloration means a distinct green or purple color on the surface of the head or stem of the floret, or color off color within the floret which materially affects the freezing quality of the cauliflower.

779.5. Any load of cauliflower offered for delivery to a processor for processing purposes shall be rejected and turned back to the grower if more than twenty-five percent (25%) by weight of the load is defective.

(a) In addition to the above tolerance for defects, twenty percent (20%) by count of the heads in any lot of cauliflower may be less than five (5) inches in diameter, provided however, no heads in this additional tolerance shall be less than four (4) inches in diameter.

(b) To determine the total weight of heads in the sample, all cauliflower immediately upon being taken from the load as a representative sample for inspection by the director shall be weighed as is, then trimmed as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 779.1 and the weight of the protecting green outside leaves and excessive stalk which has been removed shall be subtracted from the total weight of the sample, and the resultant weight is considered to be the weight of heads in the sample.

(c) To determine the amount of cauliflower in a load that is considered defective, as determined by inspection of a representative sample, the weight of those heads which fail to meet the requirements of Sections 779.2 and 779.3 shall be combined with the weight of individual florets which fail to meet the requirements of Section 779.4 and the total applied to the total weight of heads in the load to arrive at the percentage of defective cauliflower in the load.

779.6. It is unlawful for any person to make delivery or accept delivery of cauliflower for processing purposes, or to process as commercially frozen cauliflower, any cauliflower which has not first been inspected and certified as provided in this chapter, or which has been rejected as provided in Section 779.5. Any load which has been rejected as provided in Section 779.5 may be reconditioned to comply with the standards, however, no processor shall receive or process such reconditioned cauliflower until such load has been reinspected and a certificate issued by the director.

779.7. When it has been determined by inspection of a representative sample that a load of cauliflower for processing has seventy-five percent (75%) by weight of the heads or parts of heads that are suitable for processing purposes, the sample shall then be graded for characteristic color into two grades as defined below.

(a) Those heads which are white shall be classed as Grade A cauliflower, and all heads shall be considered as white unless they have a light-cream color, however, in broccoli-type cauliflower, an off-white shall be considered as Grade A cauliflower; provided further, that broccoli type cauliflower shall not be considered Grade A when it has attained a light-cream color.

(b) Those heads which are light cream color, but are not cream-yellow color shall be classed as Grade B cauliflower.

(c) (1) In some instances a head of mostly white cauliflower will have individual florets which are not white, but are light-cream color, and such individual florets shall not be graded as Grade A, instead they shall be separated from the head and placed in the Grade B classification.

(2) In some instances a head of mostly light cream color will have individual florets which are not light cream color, but are white, and such individual florets shall not be graded as Grade B, instead those florets which are white shall be separated from the head and placed in the Grade A classification.

(3) Any florets on heads of cauliflower which have a yellow color shall have these yellow-colored florets separated from the head prior to grading the head for Grade A or Grade B.

779.8. The director shall inspect all deliveries of cauliflower for processing purposes. Such inspection shall be made within twelve (12) hours from the time the delivery arrived at the location of grading. If the director finds that a load of cauliflower being delivered conforms with the standards of Sections 779.2, 779.3, 779.4, and 779.5 as being suitable for processing purposes, he shall issue a certificate showing weight of head cauliflower in the sample and the percentage of Grade A, Grade B, and defective cauliflower in the load.

779.9. Inspection shall be performed at a processing plant, or at a receiving station established or designated by the processor. The director shall not be required to perform inspection at any processing plant or receiving station until adequate inspection facilities are provided.

780. The director may enter upon any premises, vehicle, loading platform, or any building or processing plant for the purpose of inspection. The director may take a representative sample for purpose of inspection, and may subject such samples to any method of inspection or testing.

780.1. The director may seize and hold any lot or load of cauliflower which in his judgment may be necessary for inspection purposes.

780.2. The director may prescribe methods of selecting samples of a lot or load of cauliflower for processing purposes, which shall be reasonably calculated to produce by such sampling fair representations of the entire lot or load sampled.

780.3. The director may promulgate and enforce such other rules and regulations as are necessary for the enforcement of this chapter.

780.4. The director shall adopt a schedule of uniform fees to defray the cost of the required inspection and certification. Each processor receiving deliveries of cauliflower for processing is hereby designated the agent of the director to collect such fees. The cost of inspection and certification is to be borne equally by grower and processor. Any money collected and remitted to the director and not used may be returned to the processors and growers from whom the money was originally collected, in proportion to their several interests.

780.5. The inspection certificate issued by reason of the provisions of this chapter shall be prima facie evidence of the weight of head cauliflower in the load, and the percentage of Grade A and Grade B, and defective cauliflower in the load according to the definitions of these factors provided in this chapter.

780.6. Cauliflower, when being harvested, shall be properly trimmed. Properly trimmed means that enough jacket leaves or protecting green outside leaves are left attached to the main stalk to protect the head from bruising or mechanical injury when it is handled or transported to the processing plant."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 8, 1953

*To the Senate of the State of California
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN: I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to Senate Bill 1332, entitled: "An act to amend Section 1101 of the Insurance Code, relating to interest of officers of admitted insurers."

This bill, with my message relative thereto, I (through my Legislative Secretary) delivered to John F. Thompson, Member of the Senate, at 7:15 o'clock p.m., on the seventh day of April, 1953, at which time your honorable body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1953

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 1332, entitled: "An act to amend Section 1101 of the Insurance Code, relating to interest of officers of admitted insurers."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

I do not believe this bill is consistent with the fiduciary relationship of a director of an insurance company who is responsible not only to stockholders of his company but also to the policy holders for the sound protection and investment of its reserves. So important is the public interest in this relationship and the insurance business generally, that the State regulates all insurance companies. I have inquired if the existing law is a hardship on our insurance companies, and have been advised by people with an intimate knowledge of the subject that so far as they are informed no insurance company in this State is embarrassed by it.

I believe it is not sound practice either in government or in a fiduciary relationship to permit an officer to contract with himself or others to serve his own financial interests through his official actions. This principle would be violated by this bill, which would permit a partner or director of a stock exchange firm, as a director of an insurance company, to deal on behalf of that company with his own firm and to profit financially thereby.

I note also that life insurance companies have not been included in this amendment, and I see no reason for the distinction. If it is lawful for directors of one type of insurance company to engage in such practices, it should be legal for all.

It has been argued that some other states permit such practices, but the argument is not convincing to me when it permits a conflict of interest as provided in this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

(b) Active and retired employees of the district who otherwise would be members of such plan, other than teachers and persons employed in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System or who were so employed prior to retirement, shall be made members and beneficiaries, respectively, of the State Employees' Retirement System according to the provisions of Part 3, of Division 5, of Title 2 of the Government Code, including transfer to said system of the accumulated contributions of said employees, together with such other assets of said plan allocated to said employees as may be determined.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this division, contributions to the discontinued district retirement plan made by teachers and other persons employed by the district in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System standing to their individual credit at the date of discontinuance of the district retirement plan shall be deposited forthwith in the Retirement Annuity Fund with credited interest, to be applied on the amount due from said teachers and other persons under Section 14680 of this code, but not to exceed the amount so due. Likewise an amount equal to the actuarial equivalent of the annuity portion of the retirement allowance to which the respective retired teachers and other persons employed by the district, prior to retirement, in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System were entitled under said plan, based on the interest rate and mortality tables used in its determination, shall be deposited in the Retirement Annuity Fund, to be applied on the amount due from said respective retired teachers and other persons under Section 14683 of this code, but not to exceed the amount so due. Any excess of the contributions with credited interest or the actuarial equivalents, as the case may be, over the respective amounts due under said sections, shall be paid forthwith to the respective active and retired teachers and other persons. Further amounts, if any, due under said sections after said deposits, shall be paid to the Retirement Annuity Fund by the respective active and retired teachers and other persons. The balance of the assets held in the various funds of the discontinued district retirement plan after the deposits and payments required by this section, shall be delivered to the district in which the plan is discontinued, to be used as provided in subdivision (e) of this section.

(d) The district in which the district retirement plan is discontinued shall pay monthly to teachers and other persons employed by the district, prior to retirement, in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System who were retired prior to the date of such discontinuance an amount equal to the amount by which the retirement allowance to which any of said retired teachers or other persons was entitled under said plan exceeds the increase in said teacher's or other person's retirement allowance under the State Teachers' Retirement System resulting from said discontinuance. If the amount payable to any such teacher or other person, under the sentence next preceding, is less than two dollars ($2.00), the district may pay, in lieu of such amount, one amount which shall be actuarially equivalent to such monthly amount thereafter payable, according to the interest rate and mortality table used in the determination of the teacher's or other person's retirement allowance under the said district retirement plan. The payment of such actuarially equivalent amount shall discharge fully the district's liability to such teacher or other person under this subdivision (d). The arrangement under which said amounts are paid by said district shall not be considered to be a local retirement system for the purposes of Chapter 14, of Division 7, of the Education Code, nor shall said amount be taken into account in the calculation of retirement allowances under the State Teachers' Retirement System.

(e) From the assets delivered to it pursuant to subdivision (c) the district shall create a reserve fund which shall be the actuarial equivalent of the amounts to be paid to retired teachers and other persons under subdivision (d), and the amounts payable under subdivision (d) shall be paid from that reserve fund. If the reserve fund as first created proves insufficient to make the payments required under subdivision (d), the district shall make such additions to the reserve fund as may be necessary to provide for the payments required under subdivision (d). The remainder of the assets delivered to the district pursuant to subdivision (c), after the creation of the reserve fund for payments under subdivision (d), shall be placed in a special reserve, [a part] of which part shall be used first as provided in Section 14745.5, and the part remaining shall be used annually in the interest of the employees of the district, at the discretion of the governing board of the district.

If the court determines to grant the motion, it shall make an interlocutory order which shall impose such conditions as the court in its discretion deems just and reasonable, but, in any event, such interlocutory order shall require that there be filed in the action a written agreement executed by the moving defendant and such other defendants as the court shall determine, which agreement as to each such defendant shall contain

Upon proof that the conditions of the interlocutory order have been performed within the time allowed, the court, upon motion, shall thereupon enter a judgment of dismissal. If the conditions are not performed, the court, upon motion, shall vacate the interlocutory order and enter an order denying the motion or make such other order as is just. An interlocutory order hereunder is an appealable order.

The party making the motion shall have the burden of proof that the cause of action did not arise within this State, that a court of this State is not a convenient forum for the parties and witnesses and that dismissal will serve the interests of justice.

This subdivision (5) shall apply to actions pending at the time of the effective date hereof, the trial of which has not commenced. REQUEST TO PRINT OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Senator Miller asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding Senate Bill No. 470 printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

April 8, 1953

*Constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 470 as Amended in Senate
April 6, 1953—Nos. 8129, 8217, 8227, 8272*

We have been asked for our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 470, as amended in Senate April 6, 1953.

This bill would prohibit the manufacture and sale of imitation frozen dairy products. It would suspend the operation of existing regulatory provisions relating to imitation ice cream and imitation ice milk and provide that insofar as the prohibitory provision may become inoperative the regulatory provisions shall again become operative.

Question

The question is whether or not the Legislature may prohibit the manufacture and sale of imitation frozen dairy products.

Opinion

We cannot give a categorical answer to this question. The answer will depend upon what approach the court takes if and when the matter is presented to it and the facts under which the case arises. While we are inclined to the view that the court would hold that absolute prohibition of such products is not required in order to protect the public, we cannot predict this result with any certainty.

There are a number of court decisions sustaining the prohibition of the sale of imitation dairy products. The most nearly in point are the so-called filled milk cases most of which are collected in an annotation in 155 American Law Reports 1383.

"Filled milk" apparently is made by extracting the milk fat from milk and adding an equivalent or greater amount of vegetable fat. The compound is then evaporated or condensed and the resulting product resembles evaporated or condensed milk.

In a majority of the cases involving statutes prohibiting the sale of filled milk the constitutionality of the statutes was sustained. In some of the cases the basis of the decision was that the nutritive qualities of vegetable fat were not as great as those of milk fat. In some the fact that the product resembled something which it was not was emphasized.

In Carolene Products Co. v. United States, 323 U. S. 18, the United States Supreme Court sustained the validity of the federal "filled milk" act, which prohibited the transportation of such product in interstate commerce. The court apparently conceded that the product involved was as nutritious as the milk product it resembled. The product was admittedly sold only in properly labeled containers. The court, however, said that the presence in interstate commerce of a product resembling a milk product would result in "confusion" on the part of the purchasers. Apparently the court considered that the elimination of such confusion was a legitimate end for the exercise of the police power by Congress.

The court in the Carolene Products case also pointed to a certain committee report in which the question arose as to whether or not the regulation, rather than the prohibition, of the transportation of the product would sufficiently protect the public interest. The court then said, in effect, that since Congress had its choice between regulation and prohibition and chose the latter its decision was final.

There is ample precedent for the proposition that when the validity of a statute depends upon a determination of which of two remedies for an evil should be applied the courts will not disturb the determination of the Legislature.

Therefore the court could say that the Legislature has the power to prohibit the manufacture and sale of imitation products in proper cases and that it was the prerogative of the Legislature to determine what remedy was most suitable to meet the condition aimed at. There is something in the nature of a presumption of constitutionality in any statute. There is no express provision in the Constitution which makes such a prohibitory statute unconstitutional.

By the foregoing line of reasoning the court could sustain such a prohibitory act. The difficulty with that approach is that any case that can arise under such a prohibitory act will present a concrete, rather than an abstract, question. In such a case the court's reasoning might be as follows:

Under the present law the manufacture and sale of imitation ice cream and imitation ice milk is regulated but not prohibited. The regulations appear in Sections 576 to 583, inclusive, of the Agricultural Code. Section 580 provides that such products may not be manufactured, handled, or sold where ice cream or ice milk is manufactured, handled, or sold. Section 579 makes it unlawful to sell imitation ice cream or imitation ice milk in bulk for the purpose of resale. Sections 581, 582, and 583 require certain labels on containers and signs on vehicles transporting, and in places selling, such products.

We are informed that at present no imitation ice cream or imitation ice milk is being made or sold in California. The rigid regulatory provisions apparently operate as a prohibition. In order for S.B. 470 to ever reach a court test some one would have to attempt to go into the business of making and selling imitation frozen dairy products.

If we assume that he proposed to make an imitation ice cream which had nutritional qualities equal to ice cream and also proposed to make and market it in accordance with the present regulatory provisions, he could seek to enjoin the enforcement of the prohibitory act as to his product.

In such a case the court could find that there was no justification for the prohibition as a health measure and that the regulatory provisions were amply sufficient to prevent fraud or deception. The court could then find that the practical effect of the prohibitory law would simply be the barring of a competitive product from the market.

The case of Dairy Queen of Wisconsin v. McDowell (Wis. 1952), 51 N.W. 2d, 34, involved the following facts: The product in question was not an imitation ice cream but contained different percentages of the same ingredients. Specifically, Dairy Queen contained 6 percent milk fat and 13.5 percent milk solids not fat, whereas standard ice cream contained 13 percent milk fat and 10.5 percent milk solids not fat. The other ingredients were the same in both products. It was proposed to sell Dairy Queen in retail outlets in which no other products were sold and all containers were to be marked and designated as Dairy Queen. In each store a sign was to be posted stating that Dairy Queen was not an ice cream or sherbet.

The Director of Agriculture of Wisconsin was enjoined from prohibiting the sale of Dairy Queen under those circumstances. The court said "It is our conclusion that the general welfare does not require prohibition of the manufacture and sale of the product here in question, the power of regulation being sufficient to prevent any fraud upon the consuming public" (51 N.W. 2d, at 38).

While the Dairy Queen case is distinguishable upon its facts it may be cited for the general proposition that when a regulatory statute will suffice a prohibitory one would not be reasonable. It will be noted that the conditions under which Dairy Queen was to be sold are quite similar to those applicable to imitation ice cream and imitation ice milk under the present California law.

In Jolke Co. v. Emery (Wis.) 214 N.W. 369 the court held a statute prohibiting the sale of uncolored oleomargarine unconstitutional. The court said that the state could not protect the dairy industry by crippling or destroying a competing industry.

When S.B. 470 comes before the court, the court will be confronted with a situation where a prohibitory law is superimposed upon a regulatory law which seems adequate to prevent fraud or deception.

In the case of State Board of Dry Cleaners v. Thrift-D-Lux Cleaners (March 10, 1953) 40 A.C. 439 the court held the statute providing for fixing of minimum price schedules for dry cleaning unconstitutional. In the course of the decision the court said:

"However, in the exercise of the police power the law places limits on the discretion of the Legislature. Whether there has been a reasonable exercise of this power is a court question." (p. 443)

The court also said:

"But a legislative body may not, under the guise of providing for this component of the police power (the general welfare) impose unnecessary and unreasonable restrictions upon the pursuit of these useful activities. If a statute has no real or substantial relation to any legitimate police power objective, it is the duty of the court to so declare" (p. 445).

Therefore, when S.B. 470 comes before the court the court might find that the sole effect of the bill would be to prohibit a "useful activity" when any harmful results from such activity could be taken care of by regulation, rather than prohibition.

The Puget and Pacific salmon have become progressively poorer, causing distress to the industry. Immediate recovery of the diminished Salmo is essential to the well being of the State's industry. In order to provide for the regulation of the 1953 fisheries, which commence during the summer, it will be necessary for this bill to be effective as of June 1, 1953."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Fish and Game.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

SENATE INTERIM COMMITTEE ON ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

SACRAMENTO 14, April 9, 1953

Hon. Gustave F. Knight

President of the Senate

Senate Chamber, State Capitol

Sacramento, California

Mr. President: This committee was created by Senate Resolution No. 180 of the 1951 Session of the Legislature, and was directed to ascertain, study, and analyze all laws relating to the rule-making powers of state administrative agencies, and the exercise of such powers. The committee was directed to report to the Legislature its findings at the 1951 Session of the Legislature.

Since the filing of the Preliminary Report of the committee on March 24, 1952, the committee has investigated the exercise of the rule-making functions of more than 100 state agencies which promulgate and enforce rules and regulations under a statutory grant of power by the Legislature. The committee does not intend that it has completed its work and feels that it has only crossed the threshold in ascertaining the facts behind the operation of the rule-making powers of state agencies. However, investigation has revealed certain practices and procedures of administrative agencies which seem to require the intensive attention of the Legislature.

Therefore, this committee respectfully submits at this time its Second Preliminary and Partial Report.

Respectfully submitted,

F. PRESLEY ABSHIRE, Chairman

The letter of transmittal ordered printed in the Journal.

The Second Preliminary and Partial Report submitted by the Senate Interim Committee on Administrative Regulations ordered printed in the Appendix to the Journal.

Motion carried.

ADJOURNMENT

(a) Each elementary school district shall be deemed to comprise the kindergarten and grades one to eight, inclusive, maintained by the district, and the seventh and eighth grades of the district not maintained by the district because of the attendance upon a junior high school of pupils who would otherwise attend upon seventh and eighth grades maintained by the district.

(b) Each high school district shall be deemed to comprise all of grades nine to twelve, inclusive, maintained within the high school district whether maintained by a high school district or by a junior college district.

(c) Each junior college district shall be deemed to comprise the 13th and 14th grades maintained by the district.

(d) Each high school district maintaining grades 13 and 14 shall be deemed to be a junior college district comprising grades 13 and 14.

7000.1. Whenever in any section of this chapter any computation is required to be made which is based in whole or in part on the assessed valuation of a school district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding year or preceding fiscal year, there shall be substituted for such assessed valuation, as to such computation, a sum determined by adding to such assessed valuation an amount which would, if the current tax rate, as defined in Section 7000.2, of such district were levied on such added amount, produce or will produce 40 percent of the equivalent of all federal funds as federal funds are defined in subdivision (a) of Section 7000.3, 55 percent of the equivalent of all federal funds as federal funds are defined in subdivision (b) of Section 7000.3 and 75 percent of the equivalent of all miscellaneous funds as miscellaneous funds are defined in Section 7000.4, received or to be received by such district for the fiscal year for which such added amount was determined.

Should the amount of federal funds as defined in Section 7000.3 actually received by a school district for any fiscal year be more or less than that reported for such district by the United States Commissioner of Education to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall during the fiscal year next succeeding that in which the district has received all of the federal funds actually paid the district for the first mentioned fiscal year, withhold from, or add to, the apportionment made to the district from the State School Fund the amount of the excess or deficiency, as the case may be.

7000.2. "Current tax rate" as used in Section 7000.1 shall mean the total of the rates of school district taxes levied for any school district and rates of municipal taxes levied for school purposes of such district in the fiscal year for which such added amount of assessed valuation is determined on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation within the district or municipality, as the case may be, other than rates of tax levied under Sections 4063.2, 5063, 6357.2, 7516, 7736 and 19613.6.

7000.3. "Federal funds" as used in Section 7000.1 means:

(a) The total amount the United States Commissioner of Education has determined and reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the district is entitled to for the Fiscal Year 1951-52 under Section 3 of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide financial assistance for local educational agencies in areas affected by federal activities, and for other purposes," approved September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874—Eighty-first Congress), except subsections (c) and (g) of said Section 3, and exclusive of increases in local contribution rates made because of unusual geographic factors, and that the district is entitled to for a fiscal year under subsection (c) of Section 5 of said act, or under any similar provisions of any other act of Congress. The Legislature finds that money received or for which an application has been made under subsection 3(e) of an act of Congress entitled "An act to provide financial assistance for local educational agencies in areas affected by federal activities, and for other purposes," approved September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874—Eighty-first Congress) during the 1951-52 Fiscal Year has not been included in any computation made under this chapter for the Fiscal Year 1952-53, and hereby declares that it is not the intention of the Legislature that money received pursuant to subsection 3(e) of said act shall be included in any such computation made during the 1953-54 Fiscal Year, or any fiscal year thereafter.

(b) For the Fiscal Year 1952-53 and for each subsequent fiscal year the amount the United States Commissioner of Education has determined and reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the district has received or will receive for a fiscal year under Section 3, exclusive of increases in local contribution rates made because of unusual geographic factors, and under subsection (c) of Section 5 of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide financial assistance for local educational agencies in areas affected by federal activities, and for other purposes," approved September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874—Eighty-first Congress), or under any similar provisions of any other act of Congress.

7000.4. "Miscellaneous funds" as used in Section 7000.1 means for the Fiscal Year 1952-53 and for each subsequent fiscal year the amount the county superintendent of schools has determined and reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with regulations the Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized to adopt that the district has received and which has been deposited to the credit of the general fund of the district for a fiscal year on account of in lieu taxes or income from bonuses, royalties, rentals or any other income from district property or property within the district or State not being assessed for tax purposes and not being used for school purposes. Federal Forest Reserve funds received by a district prior to July 1, 1953, shall not be considered miscellaneous funds as defined by this section.

Article 2. Computation of Allowances to County School Service Funds for Supervision of Instruction and Budget Purposes

7001. 7002. The county superintendent of schools shall on or before July 15th of each fiscal year submit to the Superintendent of Public Instruction a budget for the current fiscal year, in such form as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prescribe, setting forth all known and estimated revenues of the county school service fund for the current fiscal year from all sources, and the proposed expenditures from the county school service fund for the current fiscal year. The budget shall be subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Upon the approval of the budget by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, he shall note his approval thereon and transmit one copy thereof to the county superintendent of schools and one copy to the county auditor of the county.

7003. The budget submitted pursuant to Section 7002 shall include an amount of two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) to be used exclusively for the partial payment of the annual salary of the county superintendent of schools. Such amount shall be paid for such purpose from the allowance made to the county school service fund pursuant to Section 7001.

Article 3. Computation of Allowances to School Districts and County School Service Funds for Transportation

7011. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not allow under this article, except under Section 7018.1, during any fiscal year a total amount in excess of the amount provided by law.

7011.1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district and county school service fund such amount as is required by this article.

7012. (a) "Transportation" as used in this article means, unless the context otherwise requires:

(c) "Total current expenses of transportation" as used in Sections 7014, 7015, and 7016 does not include current expenses for the transportation of pupils for whose transportation the Superintendent of Public Instruction makes an allowance to the district under Section 7018.1.

7013. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make all allowances under this article during a fiscal year in accordance with regulations, not in conflict with this article, adopted by him, and he is hereby authorized and directed to adopt such regulations. None of such regulations shall be binding upon any school district, but no allowance shall be made under this article to a school district for any item of current expense or capital outlay with respect to which the school district has failed to comply with the regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction applicable to such item.

The regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction hereunder shall, among other matters:

(a) Prescribe the records to be kept by, and reports to be made by, school districts.

(b) Fix the minimum distances for the sole purpose of determining the total current expenses of a district for transportation.

(e) Provide for the review and approval of all expenditures upon which allowances are computed.

(f) Establish and prescribe formulae for the sole purpose of computing financial allowances for reimbursement of replacement expenses incurred by a school district in replacing school busses.

7014. (a) He shall allow to each elementary school district, high school district, and junior college district, except as to any to which subsections (b), (c) and (d) of this section or Section 7016 is applicable, which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils, an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the district for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than two cents ($.02) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than eight cents ($.08) of the computed tax rate less two cents ($.02) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of eight cents ($0.08).

(b) He shall allow to each high school district maintaining a junior college, except as to any to which Section 7016 is applicable, which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils, an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the districts for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than three cents ($0.03) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than twelve cents ($0.12) of the computed tax rate less three cents ($0.03) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of twelve cents ($0.12).

(c) He shall allow to each elementary school district which is not a part of a high school district which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils to the elementary schools of the district and to high schools in other districts an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the districts for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than four cents ($0.04) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than sixteen cents ($0.16) of the computed tax rate less four cents ($0.04) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of sixteen cents ($0.16).

If an elementary district which is not a part of a high school district provides only for the transportation of pupils to a high school, an amount shall be computed as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

(d) He shall allow to each high school district not a part of any junior college district which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils to the high schools of the district and pupils attending junior colleges maintained by other districts an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the districts for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than four cents ($0.04) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than sixteen cents ($0.16) of the computed tax rate less four cents ($0.04) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of sixteen cents ($0.16).

If a high school district which is not a part of a junior college district provides only for the transportation of pupils to a junior college, an amount shall be computed as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

7015. (a) He shall allow to each unified school district formed under the provisions of Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code, the formation of which became effective on July 1, 1948, or thereafter, an amount equal to the total current expenses of the district during the preceding fiscal year for the transportation of pupils, determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to have been required because of a change of the location of schoolhouses or the reorganization of attendance centers within the district during such preceding fiscal year. No allowance shall be made under this paragraph subsequent to the close of the fifth fiscal year following that in which the district was formed and thereafter the provisions of subsection (b) or (c) of this section shall control as to such district.

(b) He shall allow to each unified school district not maintaining a junior college which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils, an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the district for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than three cents ($0.03) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than twelve cents ($0.12) of the computed tax rate less three cents ($0.03) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of twelve cents ($0.12).

(c) He shall allow to each unified school district maintaining a junior college which during the preceding fiscal year provided for the transportation of pupils, an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the district for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year. He shall then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than four cents ($.04) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than sixteen cents ($.16) of the computed tax rate less four cents ($.04) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of sixteen cents ($.16).

7016. He shall compute for each group of two or more school districts which have been continuously from a time prior to July 1, 1949, governed by boards of identical personnel during the preceding fiscal year and have maintained a single transportation system for all of such districts which provided for the transportation of pupils, an amount which shall be computed as follows:

He shall determine the total current expenses of the districts for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year.

(a) He shall, if such group comprises an elementary school district and a high school district not maintaining a junior college and each district provided for the transportation of pupils, or comprises an elementary school district, a high school district, and a junior college district and each district except the junior college district provided for the transportation of pupils, or comprises a high school district and a junior college district and each district provided for the transportation of pupils, then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of that one of such districts providing for the transportation of pupils which has the largest assessed valuation as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than three cents ($.03) he shall allow the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than twelve cents ($.12) of the computed tax rate less three cents ($.03) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of twelve cents ($.12).

(b) He shall, if such group comprises an elementary school district, and a high school district maintaining a junior college, each of which provided for the transportation of pupils, including those attending the junior college, or comprises an elementary school district, a high school district, and a junior college district, each of which provided for the transportation of pupils, then determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 90 percent of the assessed valuation of that one of such districts providing for the transportation of pupils which had the largest assessed valuation as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding fiscal year, hereinafter referred to in this section as computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed rate of tax is more than four cents ($.04) he shall allow to the district (1) 50 percent of the amount which would be produced by not more than sixteen cents ($.16) of the computed tax rate less four cents ($.04) and (2) 100 percent of the amount which would be produced by the computed tax rate in excess of sixteen cents ($.16).

He shall then allow to each district in the group the same ratio of the total amount computed for the group as the governing boards of the districts in the groups certify to him is the ratio the amount expended for such transportation in such district during the preceding fiscal year was of the total expenditures of all districts in the group for such transportation during the preceding fiscal year.

7017. In the case of a unified school district formed under Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code, the formation of which became effective for all purposes on July 1, 1948, or thereafter, there shall be included in addition to the current expenses of transportation of the district the cost of such school busses for the first five fiscal years in which it purchases school busses as are determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to have been required because of changes in the location of schools or the reorganization of attendance centers within the district. This paragraph shall not be effective as to any unified school district after the end of the fifth fiscal year succeeding the formation of the district.

7018. The Superintendent of Public Instruction in approving, under this article, current expenses of school districts for the transportation of pupils shall apply the same standards and bases for such approval to expenditures for such transportation provided by a school district in school busses owned and operated by the school district and expenditures for such transportation provided by contract with a private party.

7018.1. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not allow under this section during any fiscal year a total amount in excess of the amount provided by law.

(b) In addition to all other amounts allowed to a school district under this article, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district an amount equal to the current expense of the district during the preceding fiscal year of transporting blind, deaf, cerebral palsied, and orthopedically handicapped minor pupils to and from special day classes but not in excess of three hundred fifty dollars ($350) for each unit of average daily attendance of such pupils during the next preceding fiscal year resulting from the attendance of such pupils on the special day classes to and from which they were transported by the district.

(c) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund of each county an amount equal to the current expense of the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year of transporting blind, deaf, cerebral palsied, and orthopedically handicapped minor pupils to and from special day classes but not in excess of three hundred fifty dollars ($350) for each unit of average daily attendance during the next preceding year resulting from the attendance of such pupils on the special day classes to and from which they were transported by the county superintendent of schools.

(d) If the total amount which may be allowed under subdivision (a) during any fiscal year is less than the total allowances computed under subdivisions (b) and (c), the amounts allowed shall be reduced proportionately.

(e) If the total amount which may be allowed under subdivision (a) during any fiscal year is more than the total allowances computed under subdivisions (b) and (c), the balance shall be apportioned pursuant to Section 7118.

7019. (a) In the event that the total amount which may be allowed under Section 7011 during any fiscal year is less than the total allowances computed under Sections 7014, 7015, 7016, and 7017, the amount allowed shall be successively recomputed by adding one tenth of one cent ($.0001) to the lower tax rates provided for in Sections 7014, 7015, and 7016, respectively, until there is no deficit. Any balance remaining shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

(b) In the event the total amount which may be allowed under Section 7011 during any fiscal year is more than the total allowances computed under Sections 7014, 7015, 7016, and 7017, the balance shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

Article 4. Computation of Foundation Program for School Districts

7031. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compute for each school district the amount of a foundation program of school support therefor, in the manner prescribed by this article.

7031.1. With respect to any unified school district which became effective for all purposes between July 1, 1950, and July 1, 1952, inclusive, the foundation program for such district as computed under this article shall be increased five dollars ($5) for each unit of average daily attendance in each of the first five fiscal years of its existence for all purposes.

7031.2. With respect to any unified district formed under Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code, which became effective for all purposes on or after July 1, 1953, and which during the year preceding the effective date for all purposes had, in all the districts which were formed into the unified district, an average daily attendance of less than ten thousand (10,000), the foundation program for such district computed under this article shall be increased by 5 percent for the first fiscal year, 4 percent for the second fiscal year, 3 percent for the third fiscal year, 2 percent for the fourth fiscal year, and 1 percent for the fifth fiscal year of its existence.

7031.3. With respect to any unified district formed under Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code, which became effective for all purposes on or after July 1, 1953, and which during the year preceding the effective date for all purposes had, in all the districts which were formed into the unified district, an average daily attendance of more than ten thousand (10,000) and in which there was not on July 1, 1952, or thereafter a single chief administrative officer and staff that administered the program of education for all the secondary schools and those elementary schools of the district to which were credited 50 percent or more of the average daily attendance during the year preceding the effective date for all purposes in all the districts formed into the unified district, the foundation program for such district computed under this article shall be increased by 5 percent for the first fiscal year, 4 percent for the second fiscal year, 3 percent for the third fiscal year, 2 percent for the fourth fiscal year, and 1 percent for the fifth fiscal year of its existence.

(b) For each elementary school district which maintained only one elementary school and which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 26 or more and less than 51, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school at least two teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days school was maintained, he shall compute ten thousand six hundred dollars ($10,600).

(c) For each elementary school district which maintained only one elementary school and which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 51 or more but less than 76, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school at least three teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days school was maintained, he shall compute fifteen thousand nine hundred dollars ($15,900).

(d) For each elementary school district which maintained only one elementary school and which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 76 or more but less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school at least four teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days school was maintained, he shall compute twenty-one thousand two hundred dollars ($21,200).

7032.1. For each elementary school district which maintained only one elementary school and which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 101 or more, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, he shall compute an amount determined by multiplying the total average daily attendance by two hundred twelve dollars ($212).

7033. For the purposes of Section 7034, a "necessary small school" is an elementary school with an average daily attendance of less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, during the preceding fiscal year maintained by an elementary school district which maintained two or more schools and to which school any of the following conditions apply:

(a) If as many as five pupils residing in the district and attending grades kindergarten to eight, inclusive, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school in the elementary school with an average daily attendance of less than 101 would be required to travel more than 10 miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public elementary school.

(b) If as many as 15 pupils residing in the district and attending grades kindergarten to eight, inclusive, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school in the elementary school with an average daily attendance of less than 101 would be required to travel more than five miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public elementary school.

(c) If the Superintendent of Public Instruction grants a request made pursuant to this subdivision. If topographical or other conditions exist in a district which would impose unusual hardships if the number of miles specified in (a) or (b) were required to be traveled or if during the fiscal year the roads which would be traveled have been impassable for more than an average of two weeks per year for the preceding five years, the governing board of the district may, on or before April 1st, request the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in writing, for an exemption from such requirements or for a reduction in the miles required. The request shall be accompanied by a statement of the conditions upon which such request is based, giving such information in such form as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may require. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cause an investigation to be made, and he shall either grant such request to the extent deemed necessary by him or deny the request.

7034. For each district on account of each necessary small school, he shall make one of the following computations, whichever applies:

(a) For each necessary small school which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 26, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school at least one teacher was hired full time, he shall compute for the district five thousand three hundred dollars ($5,300).

(b) For each necessary small school which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 26 or more but less than 51, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school at least two teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days schools were maintained, he shall compute for the district ten thousand six hundred dollars ($10,600).

(c) For each necessary small school which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 51 or more but less than 76, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school three teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days schools were maintained, he shall compute for the district fifteen thousand nine hundred dollars ($15,900).

(d) For each necessary small school which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 76 or more but less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, and for which school four teachers were hired full time for more than one-half of the days schools were maintained, he shall compute for the district twenty-one thousand two hundred dollars ($21,200).

7035. In the event an elementary school district maintains two or more schools none of which are necessary small schools as defined by Sections 7033 and the total average daily attendance in the district for the preceding fiscal year was less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, he shall compute an amount for the district using such total average daily attendance in accordance with the provisions of Section 7032.

7035.1. For each elementary school district on account of the attendance during the preceding fiscal year of pupils in the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school which attendance is credited to the elementary school district pursuant to Sections 6944 and 8763, he shall multiply the average daily attendance in such grades by two hundred twelve dollars ($212).

7036. For each elementary school district maintaining two or more schools, except those to which Section 7035 applies, he shall compute an amount determined by multiplying the total average daily attendance of the district during the preceding fiscal year, exclusive of the average daily attendance for which a computation was made pursuant to Sections 7034 or 7035.1, by two hundred twelve dollars ($212).

7036.1. The foundation program for each elementary school district maintaining two or more schools shall be the total of the amounts computed for the district pursuant to Sections 7034, 7035, 7035.1, and 7036.

7037. For each high school district which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 301, he shall compute, except as otherwise provided, thirteen thousand one hundred dollars ($13,100) and in addition five hundred five dollars ($505) for each of the first to eightieth units, inclusive, and one hundred twenty five dollars ($125) for each of the eighty-first to the three hundredth units, inclusive.

7037.1. For each high school district which maintained two or more high schools, he shall compute for the district an amount which shall be determined by allowing for each day high school for which the governing board of the district has provided separate facilities and a separate administrative head and having an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 301 the amount which would otherwise be computed for the district under Section 7037 except that with respect to any such high school maintaining less than four years the amount computed for such high school shall be an amount determined by multiplying the average daily attendance of such high school by two hundred seventy dollars ($270) or the following percentage of the amount computed under Section 7037, whichever amount is the larger:

- (a) Fifty-five percent if the high school maintains but one year,
- (b) Sixty-five percent if the high school maintains but two years, or
- (c) Eighty percent if the high school maintains but three years.

No computation shall be made under this section for any high school established after July 1, 1952, without the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

7037.2. For each high school district which had an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of 301 or more he shall multiply the average daily attendance, exclusive of the average daily attendance of a day high school having an average daily attendance of less than 301, by two hundred seventy dollars ($270).

7038. For each junior college district he shall multiply the number of units of average daily attendance in grades thirteen and fourteen computed for the district under Sections 6961 and 6971, subject to the provisions of Section 7149, by three hundred twenty-six dollars ($326).

7039. Effective July 1, 1954, and thereafter, each computation required by this article for high school and junior college districts shall be made after excluding from the average daily attendance of the district for the preceding fiscal year the average daily attendance in classes for adults for the preceding fiscal year.

Article 5. Computation of Allowances to County School Service Funds for Direct Educational Services

7041. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, in addition to all other allowances, to the county school service fund:

(a) For all emergency schools maintained in each elementary school district of the county by the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year, the same amount as he would compute as the foundation program of an elementary school district under Article 4 of this chapter, except that the provisions of Sections 7033 or 7036.5 shall not apply.

(b) Two hundred seventy dollars ($270) for each unit of average daily attendance of physically handicapped pupils of secondary grade educated by the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year.

7042. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund for all special schools or classes for mentally retarded minors maintained in each elementary school district of the county by the county superintendent of schools, the same amount as he would compute as the foundation program of an elementary school district under Article 4 of this chapter, except that the provisions of Section 7033 shall not apply.

7043. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund for all elementary schools maintained in juvenile halls, juvenile homes, and juvenile camps by the county superintendent of schools, the same amount as he would compute as the foundation program of an elementary school district under Article 4 of this chapter, except that the provisions of Section 7033 shall not apply.

7044. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund for all secondary schools maintained in juvenile halls, juvenile homes and juvenile camps for the county superintendent of schools, an amount computed by multiplying the average daily attendance in such secondary schools during the preceding fiscal year by two hundred seventy dollars ($270).

Article 6. Computation of Allowances to County School Tuition Funds

7046. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each county school tuition fund one hundred twenty dollars ($120) for each unit of average daily attendance of pupils residing in the county and attending school in an adjoining state during the preceding fiscal year.

Article 7. Computation of Allowances of Basic State Aid for Elementary School Districts

7051. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow one hundred twenty dollars ($120) to each elementary school district for each unit of average daily attendance therein during the preceding fiscal year as computed for the district under Sections 6911 and 6944, but not less than two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) shall be allowed to any elementary school district, to be known as basic state aid.

Article 8. Computation of Allowances of Basic State Aid for High School Districts

7057. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each high school district one hundred twenty dollars ($120) for each unit of average daily attendance in the district during the preceding fiscal year as computed under Sections 6943, 6962, and 6971, subject to the provisions of Section 7148, but not less than two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) shall be allowed to any high school district, to be known as basic state aid.

(b) Effective July 1, 1954, and thereafter, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall exclude from the computation of allowances provided by subdivision (a) of this section the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year in classes for adults computed under Section 6971.

Article 9. Computation of Allowances of Basic State Aid for Junior College Districts

7075. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each junior college district one hundred twenty dollars ($120) for each unit of average daily attendance in grades 12 and 14, during the preceding fiscal year as computed for the district under Sections 6964 and 6971, subject to the provisions of Section 7149, but not less than two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) shall be allowed to any junior college district, to be known as basic state aid.

(b) Effective July 1, 1954, and thereafter, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall exclude from the computation of allowances provided by subdivision (a) of this section the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year in classes for adults computed under Section 6971.

Article 10. Computation of District Aid

7081. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compute for each district described hereby the amount, to be known as district aid, which a tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 100 percent of the assessed valuation in such district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding year would produce if levied, if such tax was:

- (a) Sixty cents ($0.60) in an elementary school district.
- (b) Forty-five cents ($0.45) in a high school district.
- (c) Thirty cents ($0.30) in a junior college district.

Article 11. Computation of Allowances of State Equalization Aid for School Districts

7091. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compare the total of the amounts allowed to and computed for each elementary district pursuant to Articles 7 and 10 of this chapter with the amount of the foundation program of school support computed for each such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter.

If the total amount allowed to, and computed for, any elementary school district pursuant to Articles 7 and 10 of this chapter is less than the amount of the foundation program of school support computed for such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter, he shall add to the amount computed for such district pursuant to Articles 7 and 10 of this chapter such additional amount, to be known as state equalization aid, as may be necessary to equal that computed for such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter.

Notwithstanding anything in this article to the contrary, the amount computed for any elementary school district under this article shall be not less than it would have been had the foundation program of school support for such district under Article 4 of this chapter been computed by multiplying the number of units of average daily attendance in the district during the preceding fiscal year as computed under Sections 6911 and 6944 by two hundred thirty-two dollars ($232) and had the tax used in making the computation for the district under Article 10 of this chapter been eighty cents ($0.80).

7091.1. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary the amount allowed under this article to an elementary school district having an average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, shall not be more beginning with the Fiscal Year 1955-56, than the amount that would have been computed under Section 7091 had the foundation program for the district been computed under Section 7032.1, except that to this allowance shall be added an amount for the Fiscal Year 1955-56 equal to 80 percent, reduced by an additional 20 percent in each of the subsequent fiscal years, of the difference between the allowance computed for the district under Section 7091 and the amount that would have been computed for the district under Section 7091 had the foundation program for the district been computed under Section 7032.1 except as to any elementary school district determined to be a necessary school district by the existence of any one or more of the following conditions:

(a) If as many as five pupils residing in the district and attending grades kindergarten to eight, inclusive, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school would be required to travel more than 10 miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public elementary school, or

(b) If as many as 15 pupils residing in the district and attending grades kindergarten to eight, inclusive, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school would be required to travel more than five miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public elementary school.

If topographical or other conditions exist in a district which would impose unusual hardships if the number of miles specified were required to be traveled or if during the fiscal year the roads which would be traveled have been impassable for more than an average of two weeks per year for the preceding five years, the governing board of the district may, on or before April 1st, request the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in writing, for an exemption from such requirements or for a reduction in the miles required. The request shall be accompanied by a statement of the conditions upon which such request is based, giving such information in such form as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may require. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cause an investigation to be made, and he shall either grant such request to the extent deemed necessary by him or deny the request.

7092. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compare the total of the amounts allowed to, and computed for, each high school district pursuant to Articles 8 and 10 of this chapter with the amount of the foundation program of school support computed for each such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter.

If the total amount allowed to, and computed for, any high school district pursuant to Articles 8 and 10 of this chapter is less than the amount of the foundation program of school support computed for such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter, he shall add to the amount allowed to, and computed for, such district pursuant to Article 8 and 10 of this chapter such additional amount, to be known as state equalization aid, as may be necessary to equal that computed for such district pursuant to Article 4 of this chapter.

Notwithstanding anything in this article to the contrary, the amount computed for any high school district under this article shall be not less than it would have been had the foundation program of school support for such district under Article 4 of this chapter been computed by multiplying the number of units of average daily attendance in the district during the preceding fiscal year as computed under Sections 6943, 6962, and 6971 by three hundred twenty-five dollars ($325) and had the tax used in making the computation for the district under Article 10 of this chapter been seventy-five cents ($.75).

7092.1. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary the amount allowed under this article to a high school district shall not be more beginning with the Fiscal Year 1955-56 than the amount that would be computed under Section 7092 had the foundation program for the district been computed by multiplying the total average daily attendance, excluding the average daily attendance in classes for adults during the preceding fiscal year by two hundred seventy dollars ($270), except that to this allowance shall be added an amount for the Fiscal Year 1955-56 equal to 80 percent, reduced by an additional 20 percent in each of the four subsequent fiscal years, of the difference between the allowance computed for the district under Section 7092 and the amount that would have been computed for the district by multiplying the average daily attendance of the district, excluding the average daily attendance in classes for adults, during the preceding fiscal year by two hundred seventy dollars ($270), except as to any high school maintained by a high school district determined to be a necessary school by the existence of one or more of the following conditions:

(a) If as many as five pupils residing in the district and attending grades nine to twelve, inclusive, would be required to travel more than 30 miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public high school, or

(b) If as many as 10 pupils residing in the district and attending grades nine to twelve, inclusive, would be required to travel more than 20 miles one way from a point on a well-traveled road nearest their home to the nearest other public high school, or

Article 15. Computation of Allowances for Growth

7109. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not allow under this article during any fiscal year a total amount in excess of the amount provided by law.

(b) The total amount allowed to all districts for the first period shall not exceed 40 percent of the amount computed under subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) The total amount allowed to all districts for the second period shall not exceed the difference between the amount computed under subdivision (a) of this section and the total amount allowed for the first period under this article.

7109.1. The governing board of each school district shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction during each fiscal year, as herein provided, the average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the district for all full school months in the fiscal year during (1) the period between July 1st and December 31st, inclusive, hereinafter referred to as the "first period," (2) the period between the end of the last full school month of the first period and May 15th, inclusive, hereinafter referred to as the "second period," and (3) for each of the same periods during the preceding fiscal year. Such report with respect to the first period shall be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction on or before the next succeeding January 15th and with respect to the second period shall be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than the next succeeding May 25th. Each report shall be made in such form as shall be prescribed and furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

7109.2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, for each period referred to in Section 7109.1, to each school district which was in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year an amount which shall be computed as follows:

The average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the district during the period in the then current fiscal year and for the same period in the preceding fiscal year shall be computed in the manner prescribed in Chapter 14 of this division, except that the computation of a day of attendance shall be determined according to the law in effect during said preceding fiscal year.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district for each unit by which the average daily attendance for the first period of the then current fiscal year exceeds that of the average daily attendance for the same period during the preceding fiscal year, an amount determined by dividing the total of the amounts allowed the district during the current fiscal year as basic state aid and state equalization aid by the total average daily attendance of the district during the preceding fiscal year multiplied by the ratio of days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during said period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district for each unit by which the average daily attendance for the second period of the then current fiscal year exceeds that of the average daily attendance for the same period during the preceding fiscal year, an amount determined by dividing the total of the amounts allowed the district during the current fiscal year as basic state aid and state equalization aid, by the total average daily attendance of the district during the preceding fiscal year multiplied by the ratio of the difference between 175 and the days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

7109.21. Notwithstanding any provisions of this article to the contrary, allowances for growth for elementary school districts maintaining only one elementary school with a total average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, shall be computed pursuant to this section.

The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Section 7032 for average daily attendance and number of teachers hired shall apply to such districts.

No allowance for growth shall be made for such a district unless the excess units of average daily attendance for the period of the current fiscal year over units of average daily attendance of the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year is sufficient to place the district within the requirements of a different subdivision of Section 7032, or is sufficient to place the district outside of the requirements of any of the subdivisions of Section 7032.

If the excess is sufficient to place the district within the requirements of a different subdivision of Section 7032 an apportionment for growth shall be made only if there has been employed for the school during the period of the current fiscal year the number of teachers required by the subdivision of Section 7032 which is applicable to the district according to its average daily attendance during the period of the current fiscal year, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, for each period for each district which was in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year an amount equal to the difference between the amount of basic state aid and state equalization aid which was apportioned on account of average daily attendance in such district during the preceding fiscal year and the amount of basic state aid and state equalization aid which would have been apportioned had the total average daily attendance in such district during such year been equal to the total average daily attendance during the period of the current year, multiplied for the first period by the ratio of days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during said period of the then current fiscal year to 175, and for the second period by the ratio of the difference between 175 and the days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

If the excess is sufficient to place the district outside of the requirements of any of the subdivisions of Section 7032, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall deem the average daily attendance of the district during the preceding fiscal year to have been 100 and he shall compute an allowance pursuant to Section 7109.2 with respect to the units of average daily attendance during the period of the then current fiscal year which are more than 100.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district for each unit by which the average daily attendance for each period of the then current fiscal year in the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school exceeds such average daily attendance for the same period during the preceding fiscal year the following: For the first period, the sum of two hundred twelve dollars ($212) multiplied by the ratio of days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175 and, for the second period, the sum of two hundred twelve dollars ($212) multiplied by the ratio of the difference between 175 and the days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

7109.22. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, allowances for growth for high school districts maintaining only one high school with a total average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year of less than 301 shall be computed pursuant to this section:

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, for each period for each district which was in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year an amount equal to the difference between the amount of basic state aid and state equalization aid which was apportioned on account of average daily attendance in such district during the preceding fiscal year and the amount of basic state aid and state equalization aid which would have been apportioned had the total average daily attendance in such district during such year been equal to the total average daily attendance during the period of the current year, multiplied for the first period by the ratio of days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during said period of the then current fiscal year to 175, and for the second period by the ratio of the difference between 175 and the days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

7109.23. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, for each period referred to above, to each school district which was not in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year an amount which shall be computed as follows:

The average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the district during the period in the then current fiscal year shall be computed in the manner prescribed in Chapter 14 of this division, except that the computation of a day of attendance shall be determined according to the law in effect during the preceding fiscal year.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each such district for each unit of average daily attendance so computed for the first period of the then current fiscal year an amount determined by dividing the total of the amounts of basic state aid and state equalization aid which would have been apportioned to such district during the current fiscal year on account of such average daily attendance had the district been in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year and had the tax required to be levied for such district under Section 7094 or 7095 been levied, by such average daily attendance multiplied by the ratio of days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during said period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each such district for each unit of average daily attendance so computed for the second period of the then current fiscal year an amount determined by dividing the amounts of basic state aid and state equalization aid which would have been apportioned to such district during the current fiscal year on account of such average daily attendance had the district been in existence for all purposes during the preceding fiscal year and had the tax required to be levied for such district under Section 7094 or 7095 been levied, by such average daily attendance multiplied by the ratio of the difference between 175 and the days the regular day schools of the district were maintained during the first period of the then current fiscal year to 175.

In making any computation under Section 7081 for the purposes of this section, the assessed valuation of the district for the current year shall be used.

7109.41. If the total amount which may be allowed to all districts under subdivision (b) of Section 7109 for the first period during any fiscal year is less than the total amount allowed to all districts for the first period under this article, the amounts allowed shall be reduced proportionately.

7109.42. If the total amount which may be allowed to all districts under subdivision (c) of Section 7109 for the second period during any fiscal year is less than the total amount allowed to all districts for the second period under this article, the amounts allowed shall be reduced proportionately.

7109.43. If the total amount which may be allowed to all districts under subdivision (c) of Section 7109 is more than the total amount allowed to all districts for the second period under this article, the balance shall be prorated to any allowance made during the first period to which Section 7109.41 applied in an amount not to exceed the allowances computed for the first period under this article. Any portion of the balance remaining after this computation shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

For the purposes of this division whenever computations of apportionments based on average daily attendance are made for junior college districts only the attendance in all classes of grades thirteen and fourteen and all types of ungraded classes, including classes for adults, which have been reported as attached to, or as a part of, a junior college which maintains grades thirteen and fourteen shall be included.

7151. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary the amount allowed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction during each of the first five fiscal years as the total basic state aid and state equalization aid for a union elementary school district, joint union elementary school district, or unified school district formed in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code between July 1, 1947, and July 31, 1952, inclusive, and conforming with approved plans and recommendations of a local survey committee or county committee, shall during each of the first five fiscal years of its existence for all purposes be not less than the total amount which would have been allowed as basic state aid and state equalization aid to the districts merged into the union elementary school district, joint union elementary school district or unified school district had such school district not been formed.

7152. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary the amounts allowed as basic state aid and state equalization aid by the Superintendent of Public Instruction during the first year of existence for all purposes of a unified school district formed under Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code on or after July 1, 1953, shall not be less than the amounts that would have been allowed to all of the districts formed into the unified district, had such unified district not been formed. The amounts allowed as basic state aid and state equalization aid to such unified district during the succeeding four years, and thereafter, of its existence for all purposes shall not be less than the amounts allowed the district under Articles 7, 8, 9, and 11 of this chapter plus 80 percent, reduced by an additional 20 percent for each of the succeeding four years, of the difference between the amounts that would have been allowed under this chapter to all the districts formed in the unified district had such unified district not been formed and the amounts allowed the unified district under Articles 6, 7, 8, and 11 of this chapter.

7153. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary the amounts allowed as basic state aid and state equalization aid by the Superintendent of Public Instruction during the first year of its existence for all purposes of a union or joint union elementary school district formed under Chapter 16 of Division 2 of this code on or after July 1, 1953, shall not be less than the amounts that would have been allowed to all of the districts formed into the union or joint union district had such district not been formed. The amounts allowed as basic state aid and state equalization aid to such union or joint union district during the second, and succeeding two years, and thereafter, of its existence for all purposes shall not be less than the amounts allowed the district under Articles 7 and 11 of this chapter plus 66⅔ percent, reduced by an additional 33⅓ percent for each of the succeeding two years, of the difference between the amounts that would have been allowed under this chapter to all the districts formed into the union or joint union district had such district not been formed and the amounts allowed the union or joint union district under Articles 6 and 11 of this chapter.

7190. If during any fiscal year there is apportioned to a school district or to any fund from the State School Fund more or less than the amount to which the district or fund was entitled, the Superintendent of Public Instruction during the next or any succeeding fiscal year shall withhold from, or add to, the apportionment made during such next or succeeding fiscal year, the amount of such excess or deficiency, as the case may be.

When any judgment has been rendered which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of more than the amount actually apportioned thereto during such fiscal year, the difference shall be apportioned to the district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final before any other apportionment from the State School Fund is made. Upon the becoming final of any judgment which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of less than the amount actually apportioned thereto during any fiscal year, the difference shall be deducted from the apportionment made to such district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final.

SEC. 5. Articles 1 and 4 of Chapter 16 of Division 3 of said code are repealed.

SEC. 6. Article 1 is added to Chapter 16 of Division 3 of said code, to read:

Article 1. County School Service Fund

7201. There is hereby established in the treasury of each county the "county school service fund."

7202. Wherever any of the terms "unapportioned county elementary school fund," "county elementary school supervision fund," or "unapportioned county high school fund" are used in this code or in any other law, said term shall be deemed to refer to and mean the "county school service fund" established by this chapter.

7203. During July or August of each year the county superintendent of schools shall transfer to the county school service fund 80 percent of any excessive balance or unnecessary surplus in any school fund of any school district. Funds raised by school district taxes shall not be transferred.

7204. The county auditor of any county, receiving money from the Government of the United States pursuant to any act of Congress providing for the distribution and payment to states and territories of a fixed and definite percentage of the money received by the Government of the United States from the forest reserves established therein, shall apportion 50 percent of the money received to the credit of the forest reserve school fund of the county.

The money thus added to the forest reserve school fund and any balance therein on the effective date of this section shall be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools with approval of the county board of education to school districts of the county lying within or adjacent to the United States Forest Reserve.

All of such money placed in the forest reserve school fund shall be apportioned to districts in the manner prescribed prior to the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year next following the fiscal year in which received.

When a portion of the area of a county is subject to the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools of another county, or counties and such portion lies in or adjacent to the U. S. Forest Reserve, no apportionment shall be made to any district from the forest reserve school fund without the approval of the county boards of education of both or all counties. In the event that both or all county boards of education do not concur in the apportionments from the forest reserve school fund prior to the first day of April of any year the county superintendent of schools of both or all counties shall on that date notify the Superintendent of Public Instruction who shall, not later than 60 days following notification, make the apportionments. Apportionments made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction are final.

Money apportioned to a school district pursuant to this section shall be deposited by the county auditor to the credit of the several funds of the district in the same ratio that district taxes are levied for the several funds.

7205. The county school service fund shall be employed by the county superintendent of schools to pay such charges against the fund as are provided in this code; and to provide with the approval of the county board of education (a) additional apportionments to any school district under his jurisdiction for current expenses which (1) has levied the maximum district tax specified in Section 6257 and in which the annual average current cost per pupil does not exceed the annual average current cost per pupil for all districts of the same type within the county or under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools, or (2) which needs additional apportionments for current expenses because of temporary emergency conditions, and (b) additional apportionments to any school district under his jurisdiction for the transportation of pupils to and from school to meet temporary emergency conditions.

7206. The county superintendent of schools may:

(a) With the approval of the county board of education provide advisory services in school business administration, in maintenance of school buildings and grounds, and in the processing of special problems concerning credentials as designated by the State Department of Education.

(b) Pay actual and necessary travel expenses incurred, in connection with curricular and special services, by the county superintendent of schools, or by his designated staff members in accordance with regulations established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The costs incurred under this section shall be paid out of the county school service fund.

7207. The county superintendent of schools shall, except as otherwise provided by this code, expend from the county school service fund all amounts apportioned to said fund for supervision of instruction, exclusively for the payment of the salaries and necessary expenses of supervisors to supervise instruction in the elementary school districts of the county having less than 900 units of average daily attendance during the next preceding fiscal year, and in any other elementary school districts of the county the governing board of which requests him to supervise instruction in the schools of such district, and for the furnishing of such clerical help, supplies, and equipment to the supervisors as the county superintendent of schools deems necessary. In the event of the inability of the county superintendent of schools to use such amounts advantageously during any fiscal year, the unexpended portion of such amounts may be used for other purposes of the county school service fund.

7208. No moneys shall be expended from the county school service fund for any purpose in excess of the total proposed expenditures for such purpose as approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction under Sections 7001 and 7002, without the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

It shall be the duty of the county auditor to approve warrants drawn on the county school service fund for expenses approved in the county school service fund budget by the Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to Section 7002.

7209. Neither the county school service fund nor any property leased or purchased with moneys from said fund is subject to the jurisdiction or control of the board of supervisors. The title to all property purchased by the county superintendent of schools from said fund is in the offices of the county superintendent of schools.

SEC. 7. Section 8007 of said code is amended to read:

8007. Whenever a school building or buildings of a school district are or have been destroyed, or made unusable through any cause for the maintenance of school, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction is satisfied no suitable quarters for the school can be or could have been obtained within the district, he may authorize the governing board of the district to maintain a school elsewhere than within the district or to contract for the education of the pupils of such district with the governing board of another district.

The maintenance of a school by a district outside the boundaries of the district as provided in this article shall be deemed for all purposes to be or have been the maintenance of a school within the boundaries of the district.

The making of a contract by the governing board of a district as provided in this article shall be deemed to be or have been the maintenance of a school within the boundaries of the district except that the attendance of the pupils under such contract shall be reported by, and allowances because of attendance of pupils under such a contract shall be made, to the district of attendance. For the purposes of Article 8, Chapter 7, Division 2 of this code, the average daily attendance of the district in which such pupils reside who are educated under such contract shall be the average daily attendance of the pupils educated under such contract.

Consideration of Assembly Amendments

Senate Bill No. 87—An act relating to assessments of water conservation districts in Santa Clara County, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Amendment No. 1

Strike out lines 1 to 3, inclusive, of the title of the printed bill, as amended in Senate March 19, 1953, and insert

"An act relating to assessments of water conservation districts in Santa Clara County, and declaring the urgency".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. Any other provisions of law notwithstanding, in water conservation districts organized or operating under the provisions of the Water Conservation Act of 1931 and located in Santa Clara County the regular yearly assessments to raise funds for district purposes may be at a rate not to exceed two and one-half ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) mills on each one hundred (100) cents of the assessed values of the lands within the district according to the last assessment rolls, such regular assessments to be exclusive of assessments for the payment of special assessments or for the payment of bonds, which special assessments and bonds have been voted upon and authorized according to law.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that there are unique conditions and circumstances, climatic and topographic, within Santa Clara County which necessitate that there be a method whereby water conservation districts in that county may raise additional funds. The heavy demands for water which have been made by the long established and highly productive agricultural industry in Santa Clara County, coupled with the recent droughts in that area, have made it necessary to construct large and numerous water conservation projects in order that the supply of water may more nearly satisfy the demand. Furthermore, Santa Clara County is unique in that it is so located that it has not directly benefited from the large reclamation and irrigation projects which have been undertaken in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. It must, to a large extent, satisfy its own water requirements. The large projects which have been instituted and constructed by the various water conservation districts in Santa Clara County entail great annual operation and maintenance expenses, and this act provides a means for the raising of sufficient funds to meet the unique expenses of water conservation districts in Santa Clara County."

On page 1, strike out lines 2 to 25, inclusive; and on page 2, strike out lines 1 to 24, inclusive.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 83:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 23, 1953

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 83, "An act making an appropriation for family care of patients, Department of Mental Hygiene, to take effect immediately."

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the budget bill.

The number of cases available for release on family care at our state hospitals has exceeded the anticipated number at the time the current budget was prepared. This program of family care effects real economy for the State and, in my opinion, justifies additional financing to the extent it is possible to place patients in the care of outside families.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 83 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Senate Resolution No. 103

Relating to county highway construction methods in connection with federal aid secondary highway projects

WHEREAS, This Senate is deeply interested in the progress of the counties in executing the federal aid secondary highway program; and

WHEREAS, In the operation of this program there arise from time to time specific projects in which the ability of the county to undertake and to execute the project depends upon its ability to use county equipment and county employees in such work; and

WHEREAS, The use of such county equipment and county employees on such projects in a proper case is permitted both by federal law and by state law; and

WHEREAS, This method of procedure should be available in those unusual cases where it is necessary; and

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada has recently in Assembly Joint Resolution No. 41 of the 1953 session called upon California to cooperate by permitting this method of construction in certain projects badly needed by both California and Nevada, said resolution reading in part as follows:

"WHEREAS, Certain counties in the State of California adjacent to the State of Nevada have been unable to undertake or complete construction or improvement of certain county roads in the State of California which connect with certain Nevada highways; and

"WHEREAS, Material benefits would accrue to the people of both the State of Nevada and the people of the State of California and to the traveling public in general if such county roads in the State of California were constructed or improved; and

"WHEREAS, Such construction or improvement of such roads has heretofore been impossible because of the inavailability of sufficient county funds in such counties with which to match federal aid funds for such projects under certain existing policies which require that such federal aid funds be utilized only on projects for which contracts have been let; and

"Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of Nevada, jointly, That the congress of the United States, the legislature of the State of California, the secretary of commerce of the United States, and the commissioner of public roads of the United States be, and they hereby are, memorialized to take such action as may be necessary or appropriate to permit the use of the force account method of utilization of federal aid highway funds by using county forces and county equipment and privately subscribed interstate funds to fulfill the requirement of matching such federal aid highway funds in counties of the state of California which adjoin the state of Nevada;"

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the State Department of Public Works is advised that it is the view of this Senate that said department should immediately adopt the policy which will permit counties in proper cases under existing law to use county equipment and county employees in lieu of cash matching with respect to certain federal secondary highway project construction; and be it further

PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE
COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received and read, and on motion of Senator Powers, ordered printed in the Journal:

Progress Report of the Secretary of the Senate

April 14, 1953

*Hon. Harold J. Powers
President pro Tempore
State Senate
Sacramento, California*

DEAR SENATOR POWERS: Upon the completion of business of yesterday, Monday, April 13, 1953, the Histories reveal that we had finally disposed of 84 Senate measures and 176 Assembly measures, making a total of 260 measures which we have disposed of in the 62 calendar days which have so far elapsed. Subtracting 260 from 2126, the number acted upon two years ago, leaves a balance of 1866 to be acted upon. Dividing this number by 42 days, the number of days remaining if we do not meet on Saturdays or Sundays, means an average of 45 roll calls per day on the passage of measures, in addition to which there will be other roll calls on concurrences of amendments, adoption of urgency clauses and adoption of conference committee reports, making an average of probably 50 roll calls per day.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that there have been many days in the history of the California Legislature when upward of 100 bills have been passed, though those long days were characterized by noncontested measures or else by the expedient of lengthening the day by stopping the clock. Conspicuous in the matter of amount of volume that has been crammed into some legislative days, the record reveals that on May 28, 1937, 320 roll calls were taken. On June 16, 1945, 379 rolls were called, while the last day of the 1947 Session, June 20, shows 444 roll calls.

In comparing the progress made during the current session with that of the session of two years ago, it is interesting to note that on the 62d calendar day of 1951, 236 measures had been disposed of, and at the end of the 62d calendar day of 1953, we had disposed of 260 measures. In other words, at the start of business today, we are 24 measures ahead of where we were at the beginning of the 63d calendar day of 1951.

To call the roll in the Senate takes 56 seconds. To record the vote in the Assembly by the electric roll call system requires 25 seconds.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. BEEK, Secretary of the Senate

SACRAMENTO, April 10, 1953

*Hon. J. A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
Senate Chambers, State Capitol
Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: It was most kind of the Legislature to adopt Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 47 in recognition of my birthday. The remembrances of my friends made my sixty-second birthday a very happy one.

Will you please thank the members of the Senate for their kindness.

Sincerely,

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO 14, April 10, 1953

*Hon. Goodwin J. Knight
Lieutenant Governor
President of the Senate
State Capitol
Sacramento 14, California*

DEAR GOVERNOR: I have written to the Speaker to thank him and the Members of the Assembly for their adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 44 with reference to my appointment as Administrative Assistant to United States Senator Kuebel, and want the Senate also to know how deeply I appreciate its concurrent approval of the resolution.

I have felt a very close kinship to the Members of the State Senate since 1944, when I first covered its session for the United Press. It has been a pleasure and a satisfaction to work with the various members who have had occasion to bring administrative problems to the Governor's Office.

Just as I have endeavored to be of service to the members when they have given me the opportunity, I want to be helpful in any way I can in my new assignment whenever there is occasion for them to transact business with the Senator's office.

I am leaving my State and my friends with a great deal of regret. Nothing could compensate for this except an opportunity to be of continued service, which opportunity I feel is mine in the duties I now undertake.

With warm best wishes to you and the Members and the staff of the Senate, I am
Sincerely,

M. F. SMALL ("POP")
Secretary to Governor

SACRAMENTO STATE COLLEGE
SACRAMENTO, April 6, 1953

Senator Earl D. Desmond
State Capitol
Sacramento 14, California

DEAR SENATOR DESMOND: The Advisory Board and faculty of Sacramento State College are planning an open house on the afternoon of April 19, as the enclosed printed invitation indicates. We should like very much for you to extend an invitation to the Members of the Senate and such others as you may see fit.

It occurred to me that you might like this opportunity to invite your colleagues to visit the new college. We realize, of course, that all of you are very busy and shall understand if it proves to be impossible for many of them to come. In any event, we sincerely hope that you and your family will find it possible to be with us and to share the pride which all of us have in the new institution.

I am sending a similar letter to Assemblyman Fleury with the suggestion that he may wish to invite the Members of the Assembly.

Cordially yours,

GUY A. WEST, President

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senators Collier and Powers:

Senate Resolution No. 105

Relative to the reclamation of arable land in the Lower Klamath Lake and Tule Lake areas

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California by Chapter 6 of the 1905 Statutes authorized the United States to lower the water levels of the Lower Klamath Lake, Tule Lake, Goose Lake, and Clear Lake for the purpose of aiding in the operation of irrigation and reclamation under the Federal Reclamation Law, and also ceded to the United States any lands uncovered thereby to be used or disposed of by the United States for the same purposes; and

WHEREAS, The President of the United States in 1908 set aside and reserved all islands situated in Lower Klamath Lake and marsh and swamp lands unsuitable for agricultural purposes as a wild fowl refuge, known as the Klamth Lake Reservation; and

WHEREAS, Those lands have been used for many years as a place for fall and winter feeding for migratory birds; and

WHEREAS, There is much land in the Lower Klamth Lake and Tule Lake areas which are susceptible of reclamation and which by means of irrigation can be turned into a rich and productive agricultural area, and, in fact, much land in that area has been homesteaded and developed by both private initiative and industry and by a federal reclamation project into rich thriving communities; and

WHEREAS, On January 9, 1953, the United States Secretary of the Interior by directive withdrew from homestead entry approximately 7,500 acres of some of the potentially richest agricultural land in California and transferred future control and operation of these lands to the Fish and Wildlife Service, thereby completely subordinating the use of such lands to wild life purposes; and

WHEREAS, The withdrawal of these potentially arable lands from agricultural settlement is a contravention not only of the spirit but also of the words of the grant by the State of California to the United States; and

WHEREAS, The United States presently has more than a sufficiency of land for wild fowl preservation purposes if it is efficiently managed; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California. That the Senate of the State of California respectfully memorializes the Secretary of the Interior to set aside and rescind the directive of January 9, 1953, which affects potentially highly productive arable lands in Siskiyou and Modoc Counties, California, and reserves such lands for fish and game purposes; and be it further

Resolved. That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Secretary of the Interior of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative in the Congress of the United States from the State of California.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, strike out lines 1 to 5, inclusive, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 2 of the act cited in the title hereof is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Objects and Purposes of Act and Powers of District. The objects and purposes of this act are to provide for the collection and disposal of sewage and industrial waste and for the control and disposition of the storm and flood waters of said district, and to protect the public health and also to protect from damage from such storm and flood waters the waterways, property, public highways and public places in said district. The Legislature hereby declares that special facts and circumstances peculiar to the area within the district having the boundaries hereinabove defined makes the accomplishment of the objects and purposes of this act impossible under existing general law and special legislation is necessary. The State and the people thereof have a primary and supreme interest in the securing to the inhabitants and property owners within the district hereinabove described adequate facilities for the collection and disposal of sewage and the protection from waters naturally flowing into the district from the surrounding mountainous watershed. Special investigation has shown that the conditions within the district hereinabove described are peculiar to that area and that this act is essential to carry out the objects and purposes herein expressed and for the elimination of duplication of governmental authority and securing greater economy of administration. It is further found and determined that the area within the district herein defined has no facilities for the sanitary treatment and disposal of sewage and is consequently contaminating and polluting the waters of San Francisco Bay. The area within the district is of strategic importance due to the proximity of Mare Island Navy Yard. The influx of Navy personnel and their families and civilian workers at the Mare Island Navy Yard has greatly aggravated the problem of sewage disposal in that area; said problem of sewage disposal is further aggravated by lack of adequate drainage and floodwater control and the infiltration of storm and flood waters into existing sanitary sewers; both the problem of sanitary sewage and drainage and the problem of storm water flood control are so correlated and interrelated that the special problems relating to each can only be solved by uniform administration and a uniform control plan of sewage disposal and flood control works.

The Vallejo Sanitation and Flood Control District is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic and as such shall have power:

- (a) Succession. To have perpetual succession.
- (b) Suits. To sue and be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
- (c) Seal. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.
- (d) Ownership of Property. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real or personal property of every kind within or without the district necessary to the full exercise of its powers.
- (e) Acquisition of Property. To acquire or contract to acquire lands, rights of way, easements, privileges or property of every kind within or without the district, and construct, maintain and operate any and all works and improvements within or without the district necessary, convenient or proper to carry out any of the provisions, objects or purposes of this act, and to complete, extend, add to, repair, or otherwise improve any works or improvements acquired by it as herein authorized.
- (f) Eminent Domain. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain, and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use by the State, any political subdivision or district thereof.
- (g) Sanitary Sewage Disposal Works. To acquire, construct, reconstruct, alter, own, operate, maintain and repair sewage treatment plants, including digesters, sludge heaters, sludge drying beds, effluent pumping plants, screens, clarifiers, storage ponds, control buildings, oxidizing ponds, sewage digestive systems, intercepting, collecting and outfall sewers, laterals, pipes, manholes, machinery, equipment, and all other facilities for the collection, transmission and disposition of sewage and industrial wastes, together with all works, properties or structures necessary or convenient for sewage disposal purposes. The terms "sanitary sewage disposal works," "sewage disposal works," "sanitary sewage disposal purposes" or "sewage disposal purposes" or similar terms whenever used herein shall include and comprehend all of the works, properties or structures necessary or convenient for sewage disposal purposes.
- (h) Drainage and Flood Control Works. To construct, maintain, repair and operate all levees, bulkheads, walls of rock or other material, pumps, dams, channels, conduits, pipes, ditches, canals, reservoirs, spreading basins, tunnels, drains, machinery and equipment necessary therefor, dredgers and all other auxiliary, incidental, necessary or convenient agencies, work or improvements that may be required to carry out, facilitate, repair, maintain and/or complete the same, and, in connection with any such reservoirs or spreading basins, to acquire or construct such improvements, including landscaping, apparatus and equipment, that said reservoirs or spreading basins may incidentally be used for park, playground or other recreation purposes. The terms "storm water flood control works," "drainage works," "storm water flood control purposes" and "drainage purposes" and similar terms whenever used in this act shall mean and include all works, properties, or structures necessary or convenient for drainage and flood control purposes, and said purposes incidental thereto.

(i) Indebtedness. To incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds or other evidence of indebtedness in the manner herein provided, and to provide for the issuance of warrants of the district and the registration of any warrants not paid for want of funds and interest thereon after registration and until payment, and also to issue bonds or other securities payable from revenues.

(j) Revenues From Revenue Producing Utilities. To prescribe, revise and collect tolls, rents or other charges for any services or facilities furnished by the district; to contract with the City of Vallejo or any other public or private agency for the collection of tolls, rents or other charges for any facility or service furnished by the district and to provide for the collection of such tolls, [rates] rents and charges along with the collection of water charges by the City of Vallejo or any other public or private agency.

(k) Assessments. To cause assessments to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligations of the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

(l) Employees. To appoint and employ such engineers, attorneys, assistants and other employees as may be necessary and fix their compensation, including a secretary or clerk, superintendent of work or manager, and define their powers and duties as in this act provided, and fix and determine the amount of bond required of each appointee and pay the premium on such bonds; which said officers and employees and each of them shall serve at the pleasure of the board of trustees of said district; provided, however, that the compensation, or at least the rate thereof or some basis for computing the same, shall be fixed and stated in the order of appointment of each such person. Said board shall have the power to combine any two or more offices in its discretion.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL HYGIENE
SACRAMENTO, April 13, 1953

Honorable Harold J. Powers
President pro Tempore, Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SENATOR POWERS: Enclosed are copies of two reports which have been submitted to the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and the Chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. The reports are "Report and Recommendations to the Legislature on Financing of State Mental Hygiene Clinics" and "Report to the Legislature on the Nature and Scope of the Mental Hygiene Clinic Program."

to all Members of the Legislature by having the reports printed in the Senate Journal. I am pleased to comply with this recommendation and am submitting the reports to you accordingly. I should like to call your attention to Senate Bill 1617, which was introduced by Senator Abshire; this measure can be utilized as a vehicle to accomplish the principles and program of financing community mental hygiene clinics through participation by counties and communities with the State.

Director of Mental Hygiene

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE LEGISLATURE ON FINANCING OF STATE MENTAL HYGIENE CLINICS

INTRODUCTION

During the 1952 Budget Session of the State Legislature it was requested by the legislative committees studying the Department of Mental Hygiene's budget, and by the Legislative Auditor, that the Department of Mental Hygiene make a study of the financing of state mental hygiene clinics. It was suggested that the question of partial community support of the clinics be explored. This report will state how this study was made, giving the findings and opinions encountered and setting forth recommendations resulting from the study.

PROCEDURE

The Department of Mental Hygiene questioned nine nonstate mental hygiene clinics established and financed entirely by local communities throughout the State, namely:

1. Child Guidance Clinic, Los Angeles.
2. The Henrietta Weill Child Guidance Clinic, Bakersfield.
3. Long Beach Mental Hygiene Clinic.
4. Pasadena Child Guidance Clinic.
5. Mental Hygiene Clinic of Santa Barbara.
6. Mental Health Service, San Jose.
7. Mount Zion Psychiatric Clinic, San Francisco.
8. Sonoma County Mental Hygiene Clinic, Santa Rosa.
9. Ventura County Mental Health Center, Oxnard.

The Mount Zion Psychiatric Clinic in San Francisco replied by saying that the State Department of Mental Hygiene should adopt an experimental policy and, after putting it into effect, study the results of the experiment. The other eight clinics gave specific answers which will be summarized below.

The California Advisory Committee on Mental Health was asked by the department to study the question of partial community financing of state mental hygiene clinics. The Chairman of the Advisory Committee, Justice W. Turney Fox, appointed a special sub-committee for this study with Dr. Norman Reider, Director of the Mount Zion Psychiatric Clinic in San Francisco, as the Chairman. Dr. Reider's first move was to ask Dr. R. H. Felix, Director of the National Institute of Mental Health, for his experiences on a nation-wide scale with this problem. Dr. Felix's findings and opinions are given later in the report.

The Director of Mental Hygiene asked the following organizations for their advice as to whether the communities in which state mental hygiene clinics have been or will be established should be expected to share in their cost:

1. Child Welfare Section, American Legion, Department of California.
2. California Congress of Parents and Teachers.
3. California Taxpayers Association.
4. League of California Cities.
5. California State Chamber of Commerce.
6. California Federation of Women's Clubs.
7. League of Women Voters of California.

Replies have been received from six of these organizations. The League of California Cities, however, has asked a committee to study the problem; this committee held its first meeting at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley, January 30, 1953, and a report of that meeting has not yet been received.

Dr. Kent A. Zimmerman, Chief, Mental Health Service, Department of Public Health, who was deputized by Dr. Halverson to administer the National Mental Health Authority during the period when this authority was in the State Department of Public Health, was also asked for his experiences over the period 1946 to 1951.

The State Mental Health Coordinating Committee, established in the fall of 1951, and representing seven state departments with mental hygiene as an important part of their programs, was also asked to study this question. The seven departments represented on this committee are:

- Department of Corrections.
- Department of Education.
- Department of Mental Hygiene.
- Department of Public Health.
- Recreation Commission.
- Department of Social Welfare.
- Youth Authority.

As the state mental health authority since July 1, 1951, the State Department of Mental Hygiene has obtained data from clinics wholly or partially supported by National Mental Health Act funds, but in no case receiving any state money. The difficulties in financing experienced by these clinics have been explored and their pattern of financing for the past two fiscal years has been tabulated. All of the clinics receiving National Mental Health Act funds have been personally contacted and supervised by the Deputy Director of Community Services, so that first-hand knowledge of the workings of these nonstate mental hygiene clinics is available.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE VARIOUS COMMITTEES,
ORGANIZATIONS, AND NONSTATE CLINICS*Questionnaire From the Department of Mental Hygiene to the Nine Nonstate
Mental Hygiene Clinics and Summary of Replies

1. Should all of our state mental hygiene clinics, or just new ones be partially supported by the local communities in which they exist?

None of the eight clinics was against partial local support, but one considered it almost too difficult and one expressed a divided opinion.

2. If the former, should communities be given a period of time, like four years, to take up their share of the financial burden in steps?

All eight clinics were strongly in favor of the community's being given a period of time in which gradually to take up its share of the financial burden; three clinics emphasized community preparedness and agreement beforehand; one clinic felt that four years was not long enough to give the community a chance to completely take over.

3. Should the State, in this event, supply all personnel under state civil service?

With respect to personnel being under state civil service, four clinics said no and four said yes. The answers were not unqualified, however. One clinic was against state civil service on the basis of loss of local control thereby. Two clinics thought that it was only right for the personnel to be under state civil service if the State was supporting the clinic. One clinic said that some of the personnel might be under state civil service and some not.

4. Should communities supply rent, equipment, supplies and operating expenses?

All eight clinics were in favor of the community's supplying such items as rent, equipment, supplies and operating expenses in whole or in part.

5. Should fees collected be used for technical supplies needed by psychologists and play therapists?

All eight clinics were in favor of the fees collected being used to defray clinic costs but three felt that fees need not be earmarked for any particular use, and one said that a percentage of the fees should go to the State according to the percentage of state support.

6. Should the State do all the bookkeeping and pay all the bills, while communities pay their contributions into the state treasury?

All eight clinics were unanimously opposed to the State's doing the bookkeeping and paying the bills; all the clinics wished the money to be handled locally.

7. What have been the experiences in your community in getting community support for nonstate mental hygiene clinics?

The replies to this question were, of course, peculiar to each locale; however, all nine clinics agreed that they had experienced difficulties in getting community support, in most instances a struggle, and in only one case was there no grumbling or special difficulty reported. It is noteworthy that in the latter instance a whole group of communities support the clinic and receive in return hours of service proportional to their investment.

Excerpt From Letter of R. H. Felix, M.D., Director, National Institute of Mental Health, Dated October 9, 1952

"With regard to your request for our opinion as to the advantages and disadvantages of having communities take over mental hygiene clinics and facilities so that they can be supported at least in part by local funds, I feel that there is an advantage in the local community supporting at least part of the clinic budget. Grant-in-aid was originally thought of as a means to prime the pump, so to speak, and assist the community in starting a project. The community was expected to take over the activity eventually. In our mental health program many states require at least one-third local financial support (Virginia and Ohio are examples.) In many states there is an understanding between the granting state agency and the community representatives that eventually the amount of grant funds will be discontinued or gradually reduced. In most instances, the community has maintained the activity even after funds have been withdrawn. In the past year we have observed that state support of several active clinics (14) was discontinued. Our figures for all mental health activities including clinics show a gradual increase in state and local funds since 1948 from slightly over $3,000,000 to $9,000,000 at the present time. Our information indicates that $3,000,000 is from public and private sources.

"Reports from 152 full-time and 136 part-time clinics as of June 1952 show the following: The average cost of operating each of these clinics is about $20,000 per annum. Of this amount, 28 percent, or $5,600 comes from state money; 9 percent, or $1,800 from local public funds; 30 percent, or $6,000 from local private funds; 30 percent, or $6,000 from federal funds; and 3 percent, or $600 from fees and other resources.

"As the above seems to indicate, grant-in-aid has encouraged states to appropriate matching funds and to embark on a more comprehensive mental health program. The following seems to have resulted from state and federal funds being available to local clinics:

- "1. When the grant-in-aid program started in 1947, many communities had a small amount of funds which could have been used for mental health services, but were not being utilized because professional people were not available and there was no mental health activity in which the various groups could pool their funds in order to procure services. These communities were able to use these funds to match state and federal funds and with this total amount, they brought into the community a clinic which helped to round out the community services for health and welfare.

- "2. After these clinics had been in operation for a short time, interest was stimulated in mental health generally, and most communities recognized new needs for clinic services and contributed additional funds to increase the staff or improve clinic facilities.

- "3. With this increased financial participation more local interest was generated in clinic operations. The pride of local ownership seems to be an important factor and may play some part in prompting communities to assume the entire budget, thereby giving up state and federal support. The trend in this direction is slow, however, and some communities may never be able to or willing to support the entire budget.

"The following problems arise when state and federal funds are withdrawn from clinics:

"1. Many communities, although they have some funds, may find it impossible to support the entire budget for years to come. If funds were withdrawn from these clinics, all services are likely to be lost, because it is difficult to maintain anything less than a complete clinic in a community.

"2. In the poorer areas the need for clinic services seems to be greatest because there are no private or other psychiatric facilities in the community. It is difficult to attract clinical personnel to these areas. While these communities may be able to contribute something to the operation of a clinic, its limit on available funds is soon reached. When the state granting agency withdraws funds, the staff must be reduced and, as stated before, the remainder will eventually leave. To withdraw funds under such circumstances to start clinics in similar communities is wasteful and very discouraging.

"In order for the state granting agency to stimulate the greatest local support for clinics it should (1) establish policies which require local matching funds at the time the clinic is established with an agreement for gradual reduction of state and federal funds according to the community's ability to give financial support; and (2) study the community in which a clinic is located to determine if and when it is able to support part or all of the clinic budget. This should be a joint effort between the state agency and representatives of the community.

"I can see no disadvantages in having communities take over clinics thereby freeing funds for other activities. There are those directing programs in a few states who feel otherwise and supply the total budget for local clinics. It is argued that these are public activities which should be shared with everyone in the state, and public taxes is the fairest method of financing. They also feel a state clinic is freer from local influences and that the state qualifications for staff are usually higher. They point out that local financing is not dependable from year to year and that staff is harder to obtain under these circumstances."

REPLIES TO THE LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MENTAL HYGIENE

Excerpt From Letter of Mrs. William A. Huggins, Sacramento, California
Federation of Women's Clubs, Dated December 28, 1952

"I have contacted some district chairmen and other interested members in order to get a cross-section of opinion. It is felt by many members that more clinics are desirable, to be located in the less prosperous areas of the State, and that it would be possible to extend the services if the State did not have the full financial responsibility for them.

"Federated club members in communities where the clinics are located realize that they render a great service and feel that a change in the financing might make it possible to expand the services of the existing clinics, and make available similar mental health services in areas now unable to have them if they are entirely state-supported.

"It is generally felt that perhaps two-thirds of the expense could be borne by the State, the remaining one-third to come from the local communities. In clinics already established some plan of financing could be worked out so that over a period of perhaps 10 years, the same percentage of support would be in effect. With some of the support borne by the local communities, more interest in this essential program would be stimulated.

"The problems of mental health in our State are of major concern to our members, and we are anxious at all times to be of assistance in helping to solve this problem in our State."

Letter From Mrs. P. D. Bevil, President, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., Dated December 8, 1952

"In reply to your letter of November 14th, I am asking our district presidents in the various areas where the clinics exist to sound out public and official opinions, and to reply as promptly as possible.

"I will let you know the results."

Excerpt From Letter of Mr. James Mussatti, General Manager, California
State Chamber of Commerce, Dated November 24, 1952

"You request in your communication to our president that we advise you as to whether communities should pay a part of the cost of operating mental hygiene clinics. In order to answer this question, it would be necessary to develop essential factual material, which would include the ultimate cost of the program, fee schedules, social service in determining ability to pay and benefits derived by patients. We simply do not have the staff to ferret out such information, and therefore we are not in a position to make recommendations to you on this matter."

Excerpt From Letter of Mr. Richard Graves, Executive Director, League of California Cities, Dated November 25, 1952

"I regret we do not have the professional technical information upon which to make a judgment and I am, therefore, sending your letter to Dr. David Frost, Health Officer of the City of Alameda, who represents the municipal health officers on the board of directors of the league. Dr. Frost will be requested to take the matter up with other municipal health officers and to give us the benefit of their opinion."

Excerpt From Letter of Mrs. Winston W. Crouch, President, League of Women Voters of California, Dated January 6, 1953

"At this time we do not feel that the league is in a position to answer the specific questions you raised relative to state or local financing of the all-purpose community mental hygiene clinics. It is certainly a question that is being raised in other fields, and will take a lot of serious thought and study to find the best answer for the State and the local community as well as the people involved.

"The league is interested, and has long been interested, in state-wide programs designed to help those persons who have developed emotional and personality problems and to provide for the prevention of mental illness. We shall be closely watching legislation in this field, and shall be pleased to see and consider any information you may wish to send us on such proposed legislation."

Excerpt From Letter of Kent A. Zimmerman, M.D., Chief, Mental Health Service, State Department of Public Health, Dated December 18, 1952

"As you may well be aware, there is a growing move in local communities to further consolidate government functions. Because of this and following certain consultations with some of my colleagues here in the health department, we suggest for your consideration the wisdom of calling this problem of financing the clinics to the attention of two groups. The first is to the Health and Hospital Committee of the Supervisors Association. The second is to the California Conference of Local Health Officers. My colleagues here in the department feel that the health officers would be vitally interested in this kind of a problem and they may well be called upon for their opinion by their local supervisors. The mechanism by which this may be done is for you to write a letter to Dr. Ellis Sox, of the City and County of San Francisco Department of Public Health, in his capacity as chairman of the Committee on Administrative Practices of the Conference of Local Health Officers. This committee will meet in the middle of January. A copy of this letter should be sent also to Dr. Roy O. Gilbert in his capacity as president of the California Conference of Local Health Officers. His address is the Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 North Figueroa Street, Los Angeles. A copy of the letter should also be sent to Dr. John Dement, Chief, Division of Local Health Service, State Department of Public Health, at this address. In this letter you might request the Committee on Administrative Practices to consider giving the problem to one of its study committees for consideration. The study committee usually examines the problem thoroughly, makes a report to the Administrative Practices Committee, which, in turn, if it approves, offers resolution about the problem to the entire conference. These resolutions then become the basis for policy and action by the local health officers with their local governments.

"I shall be glad to help you in any way I can in this matter. I feel the local health officers would be very interested in this plan since in several situations there is the precedent that local funds as budgeted in local health agencies may be used for the support of mental hygiene services. For example, the San Joaquin County Health Department contributes funds from its own budget, as do some other county agencies, in support of a county-wide mental health project. This is true also of the Contra Costa County Health Department, and at one time some funds from the San Jose City Health Department were contributed to the general budget of the Adult and Child Guidance Clinic of Mental Health Service, a local mental hygiene clinic."

Letter From Kent A. Zimmerman, M.D., Dated January 29, 1953

"You requested information from this office relative to the problem of local financing of psychiatric clinics during the time the State Department of Public Health was the State Mental Health Authority. I shall be as brief as possible and limit my remarks to actual community clinic services.

"As you may recall, the Advisory Committee to the State Mental Health Authority during the years 1946-1951 developed the policy of gradual reduction of grants over a three to five-year period to the clinics approved for support by National Mental Health Act funds. Even though this policy was made clear at the beginning of the grant, community groups who were sponsored or had responsibility for direction of the community clinics never really began to face the problem of financing until their backs were up against the wall, financially speaking. When this crisis occurred, the board of directors of clinics usually sought funds by trying to interest wealthy individuals to donate sums to the clinic, or they would apply for Community Chest funds. It was the experience of practically all clinics that did this to exist in a state of trepidation from year to year because of a lack of financial support, and the fluctuation in the success of communities in reaching their Community Chest goals was almost universally discouraging.

"Over this period of time the clinics which had the most financial stability were those which could count on the resources of rather large institutions or local government funds. For example, from the beginning the Child Guidance and Consultation Service of San Mateo County had almost all its entire support from funds voted by the county board of supervisors. Psychiatric clinics which were part of large on-going institutions also seemed to have stability of financial structure even though a large proportion of their budget came from Community Chests. Being a part of the institution did not make them as vulnerable as isolated community clinics. Examples of these clinics were the Child Guidance Clinic at the Children's Hospital in San Francisco and the Mt. Zion Hospital Outpatient Psychiatric Clinic.

"Separately incorporated mental hygiene clinics, even though long established and which had had Community Chest support over this time, would have wide fluctuations from year to year in their budget estimates. National Mental Health Act funds were used for a few years to bolster budgets of such clinics over periods of particular crisis. Examples of these clinics are the Henrietta Weill Child Guidance Clinic of Bakersfield and the Long Beach Mental Hygiene Clinic in Long Beach.

"Clinics which were most vulnerable financially were those started new in communities. It took a relatively long time—three to five years—for a stable community leadership group to form around the clinics and to establish a group which would assume a good deal of the responsibility and work necessary for development of a plan for obtaining local community funds for the support of these clinics. The Mental Health Service of Santa Clara County has gone through a particularly trying time experimenting with the best way to finance a clinic in that community from local funds. At the present time they have found their best support comes from a mail letter campaign. However, even this financing is largely due to the efforts and activities of one very energetic community member, and should he leave, the financing would again become most unpredictable. The clinics in more rural communities such as the Sonoma County Mental Hygiene Clinic seemed to have a more difficult problem in this regard than did new clinics in the cities. Generally speaking, community resources of rural areas are not as well organized as those in the urban districts of the State and hence the problems facing a board of directors for local financial support in such cases are even greater.

"It is my impression from this experience that a community can raise a certain amount of funds without too much back-breaking effort to support these expensive but necessary services. However, the community does need a certain amount of funds they can count on from year to year to build up and maintain a competent and well-trained staff which spends enough time together in the clinic to work as a team. Some plan of support which could provide half the cost of a budget of such a community clinic would more readily invite the continuous giving of local community funds since the project would have more likelihood of continuous growth in its service to the community under this more reliable source of support."

Excerpt From the Minutes of the State Mental Health Coordinating Committee's Meeting of January 12, 1953

"Considerable discussion took place regarding possible implications such as the chances of securing cooperation between the State and local agencies in the administration of such a program; effect on present public school services for parent-child guidance; the eventual character of mental hygiene clinics, i.e., adult, child, parent-child or 'all-purpose'.

"Dr. Fenton moved that the Mental Health Coordinating Committee go on record favoring the principle of community participation in financing mental hygiene clinics. Seconded by Dr. Zimmerman. Carried."

Excerpt From Letter From Deputy Director of Community Services,
Department of Mental Hygiene to Norman Reider, M. D.,
Mt. Zion Psychiatric Clinic, Dated November 18, 1952

"Since I have been in this position during the past 18 months, I have personally participated in community organization of mental hygiene programs in 12 different counties. My general procedure has been first of all to find out at what stage the community is in its thinking and to help them go on from that point both to assess their resources and to define their needs. For this purpose, I have referred survey groups to the G.A.P. report on 'An Outline for Evaluation of a Community Program in Mental Hygiene.' Preparedness and sophistication vary, of course, from community to community, but I have found that in every case the community has taken longer than it anticipated to formulate a program. Generally speaking, one should allow approximately a year for this preparatory work before it is possible to establish a clinic on any sort of basis.

"I have found that taxpayers associations feel very strongly that money from property taxes in county treasuries should be used, if at all, merely to supplement funds from other sources. The argument is that supporting clinical services for all of the people in a community out of county funds puts an unfair burden upon the property owners. On the other hand, survey groups themselves are strong for local participation and control. Some groups, notably the medical profession, are violently opposed to the State's coming into the community with clinic services. In no instance, in my experiences with communities, has a community requested or expressed the desire in any way for the State to set up an entirely state-supported and state-controlled clinic.

"On the other hand, clinics which have been receiving help from National Mental Health Act funds on a decreasing basis over a period of years, have felt that the State should come in with partial continued financial support in order to provide at least one stable source of income. The other chief sources, namely, Community Chest, fees, and private subscriptions are felt to be too unpredictable. In those places where some county support is given to the clinic, this is the most stabilizing factor. However, in San Mateo County, where the county inadvertently was saddled with the Child Guidance Clinic, I have recently heard repercussions which are making it difficult to get any county support for other much needed mental hygiene facilities. By contrast, in Ventura, Napa, and Sonoma Counties, for example, partial county support of clinics is apparently acceptable and feasible.

"I have a conviction that, as Dr. Felix pointed out in the second paragraph on page 3 of his letter to you, a prior agreement between the State and the community is essential if the State is to eventually ask a community to take over the support of a clinic in whole or in part. Such an agreement should be the result of the State and the community working together over a period of time, making a survey and organizing the community, before any clinic at all is set up. My experience also leads me to another conclusion, namely, that each local situation is unique and the plans for each community must be tailor-made to fit that particular locale. In other words, though an ultimate goal may be set up as a matter of policy, the steps toward the achievement of that goal must necessarily vary from place to place. An example of such a goal might be the ultimate arrangement whereby a clinic would be supported 30 percent by state funds, 30 percent by federal funds, 30 percent by local governmental and private support, and 10 percent by fees collected. I believe it would take different communities varying lengths of time to achieve such a goal. Some might never reach it while others might go beyond it so far as local community support is concerned."

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL HYGIENE

I. That new state mental hygiene clinics be established in communities only after the community has (1) surveyed both its needs and resources; (2) has an organized, broad mental hygiene program as a formulated goal; (3) has accepted the responsibility of giving some local, financial support to the clinic; and (4) has the desire to have the State Department of Mental Hygiene administer and supervise the clinic.

II. That the six communities where state mental hygiene clinics are already established (i.e., Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside, Fresno, Sacramento, and Chico) and are currently financed entirely by state funds, be given a two-year period in which to organize local, partial support of the clinic.

III. That the East Bay Community served by the Berkeley State Mental Hygiene Clinic, consisting of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties and the Cities of Oakland, Berkeley, and Alameda, be given a two-year period in which to organize local, partial support of this clinic, which is now entirely financed by National Mental Health Act funds; and that the State also support this clinic which it has been administering since 1948.

IV. That legislation introduced at the current session of the Legislature enabling a county and or city to participate with the State in the establishing and financing of a state mental hygiene clinic be supported as to its general intent.

V. That any specific plan of financing, partly by state and partly by local government (county and or city) be understood to be subject to later modification as dictated by experience.

VI. That as much flexibility as possible be incorporated into any plan of financing, so as to permit of maximum adaptation to specific, local conditions.

VII. That federal grants-in-aid, under the National Mental Health Authority, be reserved for (1) use where communities decide upon financing clinics or other mental hygiene projects on a private basis, without state support at any time; or for (2) temporary assistance to a county and or city undertaking to establish a mental hygiene clinic in conjunction with the State.

VIII. That final, specific recommendations as to what proportions of clinic budgets be financed by the State, county, or city, together with a specific time-schedule for the year-by-year assumption of these proportional responsibilities, be formulated after hearing (1) the forthcoming report of the California Advisory Committee on Mental Health, (2) the proposed study by the League of California Cities, (3) the opinions of the Health and Hospital Committee of the Supervisors Association, (4) the opinions of the California Conference of Local Health Officers, and (5) the wishes of local communities as expressed through their legislative representatives.

REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE ON THE NATURE AND SCOPE OF THE MENTAL HYGIENE CLINIC PROGRAM

BACKGROUND

Ten years ago, with the opening of the Langley Porter Clinic in April, 1943, the Department of Mental Hygiene embarked upon a program of prevention of mental illness through early diagnosis and treatment on an outpatient basis. From the start, this program provided for special attention to disturbed children. Subsequently, between 1946 and 1950, National Mental Health funds were used to establish the Berkeley State Mental Hygiene Clinic (a training clinic affiliated with three departments of the University of California: Psychiatry, Psychology, and Social Welfare) and to help certain state hospitals initiate outpatient activities on a very modest scale.

In the meantime, the Governor's Conferences on Mental Health, on Children and Youth, and on the Problems of the Aged, brought forth both recognition of, and recommendations to implement, a concept of mental hygiene that is broader than the mere prevention of mental illness and includes the conservation of mental health through community services as well as outpatient treatment services to individual patients. Accordingly, since 1950, the Department of Mental Hygiene has gradually made a start in the areas of (1) public information and education, (2) consultative services to school departments, welfare agencies, probation offices, etc., and (3) help to communities in organizing broad, local mental hygiene programs of their own. Meanwhile, outpatient treatment services to individual patients have been strengthened by provisions for better trained personnel (particularly in the area of child psychiatry), by closer coordination between the central office and clinic staffs, and by more clearly defining the role of a state mental hygiene clinic in its particular community.

The Department of Mental Hygiene has not requested any new clinics since 1950 but has concentrated on improving the outpatient services already established, on coordinating and clarifying the roles of the State and of the local communities, and on working with communities, largely using for these purposes the existing personnel in the outpatient and extra-mural programs, i.e., staff already working out in the community.

Since the Department of Mental Hygiene became the National Mental Health Authority for California in 1951, it has received many more additional requests from all parts of the State for both clinic and community services. Some of these requests could be, and have been, made of other state departments, such as Education, Public Welfare, Youth Authority, Public Health, Correction, and the Recreation Commission. To both clarify and coordinate responsibilities, the State Mental Health Coordinating Committee, composed of representatives of the departments named above, was established by their respective directors in 1951.

CLINIC POLICIES

- I. The functions of a state mental hygiene clinic are (1) to provide diagnosis and outpatient treatment for children, adolescents, and adults; (2) to advise referring agencies or individuals as to proper disposition of cases; (3) to help

- individual patients by referring them to other agencies or community resources; (4) to answer requests for information; (5) to educate professional and lay groups in the principles of mental hygiene; (6) to consult with public agencies, such as schools, that need psychiatric advice; and (7) to participate in community organization for mental hygiene.
- II. The eligibility of a citizen for clinic services is determined by his need of psychiatric attention and his inability to get it elsewhere, either because he cannot afford private care or because no other public or private facilities exist. (Note: The first reason applies to about 90 percent of our clinic patients.)
- III. The intake policies of a given clinic include I and II, as stated above. In addition: (1) No patient is excluded from clinic treatment by reason of race, color, creed, or diagnosis; (2) no patient is treated without evaluation of his physical condition by a licensed physician, but the clinic psychiatrists limit their own work to the specialty of neuro-psychiatry; (3) the clinics do not do psychological testing for outside agencies but only on clinic patients; (4) each clinic has the right to some flexibility in intake policies on account of long waiting lists, the poverty or plenty (as the case may be) of other resources in the community, and special community needs; (5) the clinic has the final say as to treatability of a patient.
- IV. Fees are charged, according to ability to pay, on a sliding scale, from 0 percent to 100 percent of a maximum of $8 per visit (50 to 60 minutes, as a rule). The $8 maximum is a 1951 revision of a previous, maximum fee of $5, in the face of rising costs and depreciation of the dollar; $8 represents the actual, minimum cost to the State per patient-hour. (See cost statistics.)
- V. Case-records are kept on each patient and are held strictly private, their contents to be revealed only upon written consent of the patient or upon court order.
- VI. No minor may be treated except after written consent of a parent or legal guardian, or upon juvenile court order.
- VII. Immediate diagnostic services in emergent cases requiring quick disposition for the safety of the patient and/or the public are provided.

ALLOCATION OF STAFF TIME

(See Cost Statistics Attached)

The allocation of staff time as between direct diagnostic and treatment services to patients and preventive services to communities have been tabulated in connection with costs of those services for 1951-52. These statistics include a table for comparison with 1950-51, when no count was made of time spent in community services. The differences between clinics are briefly accounted for, as follows:

- (1) The marked lack of facilities in the schools, probation offices, welfare departments, etc., in Fresno County and environs, means that this community has an unusual need to use the clinic staff for community services, and the director of the clinic felt that more could be accomplished with limited personnel in that area.

- 2) The two training clinics, Langley Porter and Berkeley, do training and help alleviate the bottleneck in psychiatry, a shortage of trained personnel, as their special form of "community service." They do not have the time to do as much as the other clinics in the way of community services.
- 3) The Chico and Riverside clinics show greater cost per service hour than the other clinics due to their being the newest clinics and incompletely staffed.
- 4) The Berkeley Clinic shows the lowest cost per service hour in part because the psychiatric residents' salaries are paid out of other budgets. However, when these salaries were added to the Berkeley Clinic budget for purposes of comparison, this clinic still showed the lowest cost. The two training clinics, Berkeley and the Langley Porter Clinic, cost the least.

NATURE OF TREATMENT

- (a) All types of cases may be accepted for treatment, but the majority of adults suitable for outpatient treatment are nonpsychotic and most of these are suffering from one of the psychoneurotic disorders, such as anxiety state or hysteria. By far the commonest diagnosis in children's cases is primary behavior disorder, either with habit disturbance (e.g. bed wetting), or with conduct disturbance (e.g. stealing), or with neurotic traits. (For details, see attached statistical table.) The diagnostic services of the clinic include patients with all the major psychotic and nonpsychotic conditions.
- (b) The kinds of treatment provided by clinics are:
  1. Individual psychotherapy.
  2. Group psychotherapy.
  3. Play therapy (for younger children).

One or both parents are seen as part of the treatment of a child. Manipulation of the environment may be helpful in some cases. Shock treatment is not done in the mental hygiene clinics where there are no nursing or hospital facilities to give the proper safeguards to the patients undergoing such physical treatment.

- (c) The average number of visits per treated, discharged outpatient in 1950-51 was 17.9; in 1951-52, it was 18.5. (See the Department of Mental Hygiene's Statistical Reports.)

PATIENT FEES

(See Cost Statistics Attached)

- (a) A fee is set at the time of the intake interview when the matter is discussed with the patient by the psychiatric social worker. Further discussions may ensue, and the fee may be revised upward or downward as a result of this, or at a later date when the patient's financial circumstances have changed in either direction. In any case, the payment of a fee by all patients except those on direct relief is considered to play a positive role in the establishment of a sound therapeutic relationship with the patient.

- (b) The fee-schedule in use is the one the Department of Mental Hygiene has had the longest experience with, i.e., the one developed at the Langley Porter Clinic for outpatients and based upon the "Heller Study". The matter has been discussed at length at several meetings of clinic directors and a fee committee has been making a study during the past year, using consultants from the University of California. Currently, the fee committee is asking for help and advice from the State Department of Finance before making recommendations for the improvement of our recognizably unsatisfactory fee-schedule in present use.
- (c) As a matter of policy (stated above), patients who can afford private psychiatric care are referred to such resources when they apply for treatment at a state clinic. If the community contains psychiatrists who are willing to take some patients at a low enough fee, the clinic takes every opportunity to refer patients to such doctors. The paucity of child psychiatrists in private practice even in the metropolitan areas, and the total absence of them in most places, accounts for the relatively few deviations from our general policy of reserving clinic services for those who cannot afford care elsewhere and who would get no care were it not for the clinic. (See attached statistical table.)

FUTURE PROGRAM EXPANSION

Factual material, discussion of pertinent questions, and current studies being made are contained in a separate "Report and Recommendations to the Legislature on the Financing of Mental Hygiene Clinics" (which see). Future program expansion so far as the State is concerned will depend upon the kind and degree of responsibility and financial support assumed by counties and cities, and to some extent upon the actions of the new U. S. Congress in appropriating funds for federal grants-in-aid to state mental hygiene programs.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel, regarding Assembly Bills Nos. 633 and 634, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, April 15, 1953

Honorable Jack B. Tenney
Senate Chamber

A.B.'s 633 and 634, Each as Amended in Assembly March 18, 1953
(Personal Income and Bank and Corporation Taxation) No. 8703

DEAR SENATOR TENNEY: You have asked several questions regarding Assembly Bills 633 and 634, each as amended in the Assembly on March 18, 1953, relating to personal income and bank and corporation taxation. They are set forth, together with our answers thereto, in the following:

1. Do the words "with intent to evade any tax" in the Section 19406 that would be added to the Revenue and Taxation Code by A.B. 633, and in existing Section 25961 of that code as that section would be amended by A.B. 634, qualify not only "fails to file any return or to supply any information" but also "makes, renders, signs, * * * verifies * * * or supplies * * *"? In other words, would "with intent to evade any tax" apply to and be an element of each of the offenses described in each section?

We believe that the answer is in the affirmative.

The element of intent to evade is clearly an essential of failure to file a return or supply information, and in view of the language "with like intent," is just as clearly a concomitant of "makes, renders, signs, * * * verifies * * * or supplies * * *"

2. Does "with intent to evade any tax" embrace an element of wilfulness?

We believe that this, too, is in the affirmative.

As the court said in In Re Trumbley (1948), 31 Cal. 2d 801, 807:

"The word 'wilfully' as used in criminal statutes implies a purpose or willingness to commit the act (Pen. Code, §7, subd. 1), and although it does not require an evil intent, it implies that the person knows what he is doing intends to do what he is doing and is a free agent."

And it appears that for purposes generally the word "wilfully" ordinarily means "intentional" (see People v. McNutt (1940), 40 Cal. App. (2d) (Supp.) 835, 837).

3. Does the language in the sections of the bills under consideration limit prosecutions to cases where there is an intent to evade? Could it be employed to prosecute persons guilty only of innocent mistakes in the matter of filing returns or supplying information?

It is our opinion that there is nothing in the language of either section under which any person who has no intent to evade taxation could be prosecuted. We are unable to construe any of the language used as offering any possibility of prosecuting a person who has been guilty only of an innocent mistake in respect to the filing of a return or supplying information.

You have suggested that the insertion of the word wilfully in various parts of each bill in further description of the offenses specified would eliminate any possibility of a prosecution in the event of a mere mistake in the filing or failure to file a return. In view of our opinion on your second question, we doubt the necessity for any such insertion. It would result in redundancy and might cause some uncertainty as to the meaning of the law.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By J. GOULD, Deputy

Two copies to Honorable Thomas W. Caldecott, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Ed. C. Johnson, ordered printed in the Journal:

April 10, 1953

*Hon. Ed. C. Johnson
The State Senate
Sacramento, California*

DEAR SENATOR JOHNSON: This letter is in response to your request for information and advice relative to the action of the Bureau of Milk Control in the establishment of lower minimum prices to producers for fluid milk, which were made effective on April 8, 1953.

In the major milk marketing areas of the State, the minimum price for Class 1 fluid milk to be paid by distributors to producers was reduced. This reduction was 57 cents per hundredweight in Southern California and 34 cents per hundredweight in Northern California, whereas the price to the consumer in Southern California was reduced one cent per quart and in Northern California one half cent per quart. The price reduction to the producer was 11 cents per hundredweight, or $0.002365 per quart greater than the price reduction to the consumer. The difference between the consumer price reduction and the producer price reduction of $0.002365 per quart reflects an increase in distributor margins. This increase of slightly less than one-fourth cent per quart was justified on the basis of increases in labor and other costs to milk distributors.

The price reduction to the producer is based primarily on lower feed price quotations, and lower spring and summer production costs which result from other factors. The cost of the basic dairy ration used in Northern California as a measure of feed price changes, expressed as the equivalent of a hundredweight of 3.8 percent milk, was 43 cents less for the month ending February 15, 1953, than for the same period in 1952. It was the equivalent of 27 cents per hundredweight of 3.8 percent milk lower in the 1953 period than between September 16 and December 15, of 1952. Comparable figures for Southern California are 97 cents and 42 cents, respectively. These comparisons are based on the latest data available at the time of the recent hearing. Since then, data for the month ending March 15, 1953, have become available. The cost of the dairy ration for Northern California was the equivalent of 52 cents less per hundredweight of 3.8 percent milk during the month ending March 15, 1953, than during the corresponding months of 1952. For Southern California, the comparable change was a reduction of 84 cents.

In the use of feed price comparisons between fall and spring months in milk pricing, consideration must also be given to the seasonal differences in milk production. With the same feed prices in the two periods, the cost per hundredweight of milk is less during the spring and summer than during the fall and winter.

If you have any further questions, or desire any additional information, we shall be most happy to be of assistance to you.

Very truly yours,

D. A. WEINLAND, Chief of Bureau

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 15, 1953

Hon. F. Presley Abshire
Senate Chamber

Taxation of Personal Property—No. 8758

DEAR SENATOR ABSHIRE: You ask whether Senate Bill No. 1178 applies to agricultural commodities other than wine or brandy.

As amended in the Senate March 30, 1953 some question might be raised as to whether agricultural commodities other than wine or brandy were exempted from taxation by Senate Bill No. 1178. However, we believe that such question has been removed by the amendment made by the Senate on April 14. As amended April 14, Senate Bill 1178 applies only to wine or brandy. It now reads:

“Any wine or brandy produced or manufactured in California by a licensed winegrower or manufacturer which now or hereafter is held by a licensed winegrower or manufacturer for the purpose of further processing, aging, or improvement of quality is subject to taxation only once. Such wine or brandy shall be subject to taxation only on the first Monday in March on which it is so held immediately following its production or manufacture. The tax on such property shall be subject to all the provisions of this code regarding the assessment, equalization, levy and collection of county taxes, to the extent that those provisions are applicable."

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By CHAS. W. JOHNSON, Chief Deputy

Two copies to Hon. Fred Weybret pursuant to Joint Rule 34
